Class

"Class bespeaks an aristocracy that has nothing to do with ancestors or money." At Oakland, class is a tradition. It can be found in every move a Patriot makes. This class helps make Oakland a step above the rest.

Class can "walk with kings and keep its virtue and talk with crowds and keep the common touch." Class is evident at Oakland throughout the entire year. It is evident in the many people whether they be athletes, fans, students, or teachers.

Class never runs scared. It is sure-footed and confident in the knowledge that you can meet life head on and handle whatever comes along. Many trials are faced by Patriots, whether they be exams, graduation, or just growing up. But no matter the case, the Patriot emerges victorious.

If you have class, you don't need anything else. This is what makes the Patriot successful from beginning to end. This attitude is what makes people "proud to be an Oakland Patriot."

Thanks, Mr. Swafford, For 15 Vintage Years

Before there was an Oakland High School or even a Patriot Drive, John Swafford was already acting as our principal, travelling extensively around the United States choosing the best features of other schools to be used here. Working closely with architects on the plans and with the school board on the curriculum, he literally helped shape the two new schools which were to open in the Fall of 1972. Having led Oakland into existence and through the last fifteen years, Mr. Swafford is now retiring. He philosophically states, "I've spent the last thirty-six years trying to solve other peoples' problems; now I'm going to spend a few years trying to solve my own."

The daily activities of running a comprehensive high school surely offer many problems to be solved, but Mr. Swafford feels he has always had a great "team" to work with in meeting those problems. "Oakland and I have had winning seasons," he states. We began with the idea that we'd work as a team. We've all worked together to get the job done. That's the bottom line.

"We've been fortunate to have some very fine students. They've worked as hard as the faculty to make Oakland a fine institution. We've had students go into a wide variety of occupations and professions, and they have been very successful because of their hard work and the opportunities provided by their teachers." He goes on to explain, "You don't teach anyone; you provide the opportunities for them to achieve their own educational goals."

Mrs. Swafford is also retiring at the end of this school year. They plan to travel, to spend some time with his grandchildren, and to enjoy their fishing cabin.

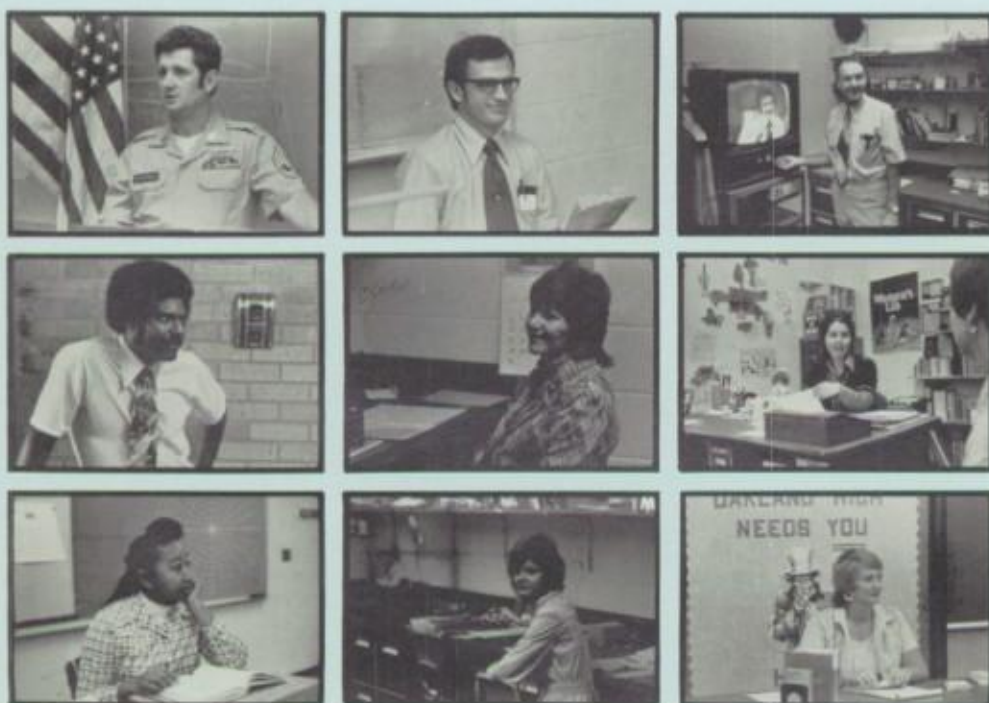

Mr. Swafford sees a bright future for Oakland. "With outstanding teachers, administration, and staff we'll always remain a leader in the community. I'll keep up with Oakland. I put fifteen years into it. It's a big part of my life."

Already a driving force at two ...

Strut With

More Patriots than ever before packed the school year with fun times and excitement. Though the sophomores outnumbered all other classes, each class demonstrated its individual strengths. Not only did they find ways to strut their class, but they did it with style.

We Are . . .

Christy Mayfield, April Qualls, Sonia Patton, Lane Golden, and Rebecca Baskin enjoy a sunny afternoon break.

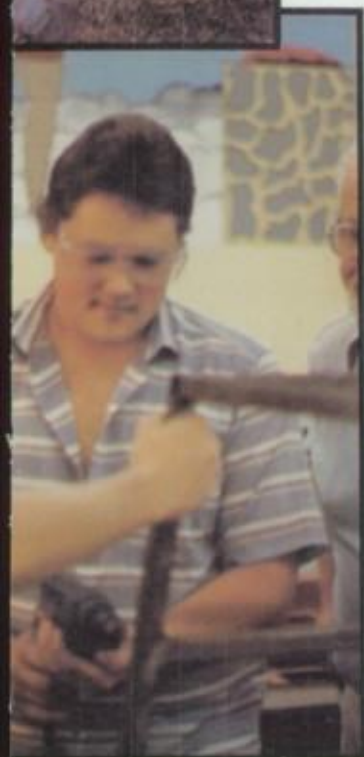

Ann Capwell and Charles Capwell concentrate on the perfect tone.

Bill Heath, Laura Keys, Kristin Hillman, Jeff Wilson, and Kelly Smith return to classes.

Nancy Stockdell, Eltra Butler, and Claire McClanahan demonstrate a classic pose.

Tracey Bowen and David Gaither at shop.

A Flair For The Dramatic Adds Class To You Can't Take It With You

After reading many scripts, the Drama II Class finally decided on the Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman comedy, You Can't Take It With You, for their winter production. Mrs. Burnette and the class must consider many factors in choosing a play. Selecting a high quality play which has won critical acclaim on Broadway is always a major factor. The subject matter must be suitable for all ages. The number of set changes, styles of costumes, and lighting requirements must also be considered. The cast must also provide props

— everything from sinks, Victorian furniture, curtains, lamps, and pictures, to fireworks and a cow's skull! It takes many, many hours of rehearsals, constructing exterior and interior sets, and much dedication to get a play ready for opening night. The call for "places" — "curtain up" — and an appreciative audience makes it all worthwhile.

Being involved in the performing arts makes a lasting impression on students. It provides a wonderful means for self-expression, it builds self-confidence, and it creates an atmosphere of teamwork and love. Someday all will look back with pride and say, "Yeah, I remember when I played a tree, or a Munchkin, or a medieval soldier."

There were no Munchkins in You Can't Take It With You, but there were plenty of eccentric characters. The play related the complications which beset a young couple from very different families. The interaction between the madcap Sycamores and the unhappy Kirbys kept the love story fresh and unpredictable.

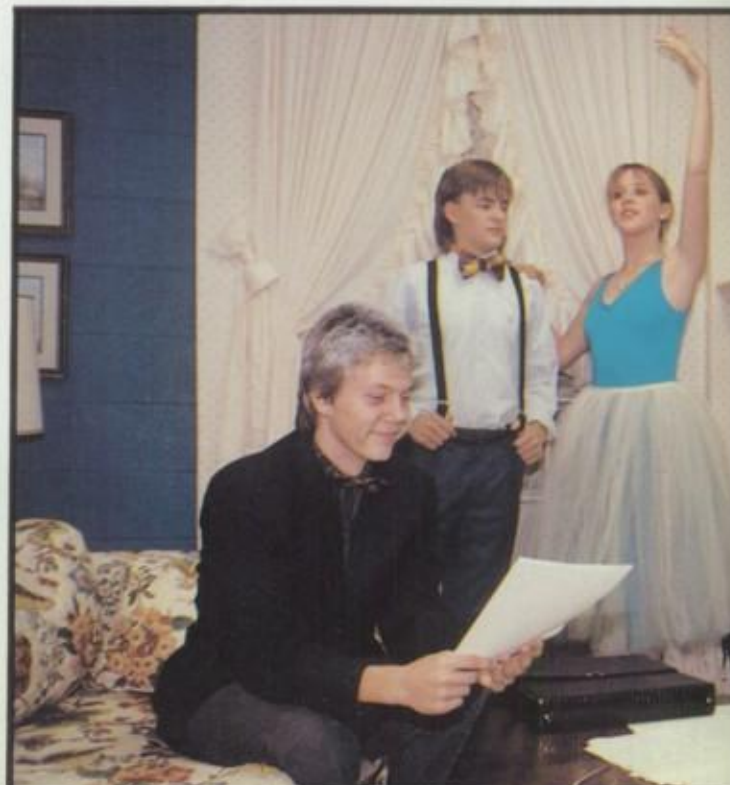

Kris Dillehay and Terri Morris: "I wouldn't trade one minute of this evening for all the rice in China."

Kris Dillehay, David Martin, Tommy Lynch, Steven Brandon, and Wendy Rountree: "What did I do that was so terrible? I threw him on the floor. Did it kill him?"

Steven Brandon and Gina Jones: "How dare you! I demand an explanation!"

Clay Walker, Tommy Lynch, D'arcy Holland, and Terry Pittard: "Mr. Vanderhof, the government wants to talk to you about a little matter of income tax."

"I know they do rather strange things, but every family has curious little traits."
Henry Matthews and Donesha Smith: "They're awful cute, Donald and Rheba."

David Cates, Deann Odom, and Jamie Farmer: "The czar always said to me, 'Olga, do not be stingy with the blintzes.'"
Varity Sanders, David Miller, Regina Young, and Michelle Young: "Ah, My little Rebishkas!"

1986 Homecoming Royalty

Every year students eagerly anticipate Homecoming week. Powder-puff football, speedball, balloon-popping, target-shooting, and the ever-famous Video Show are just some of the activities. This special week gives each student a chance to show his Patriot Pride by wearing Patriot colors and by participating in the many events.

Friday night's activities were the culmination to the exciting week. Horace Jones Field saw the crowning of the queen and Oakland's scorching victory over Warren County which fired up the Patriots for the Homecoming Dance and festivities.

OHS Celebrates Homecoming With Style

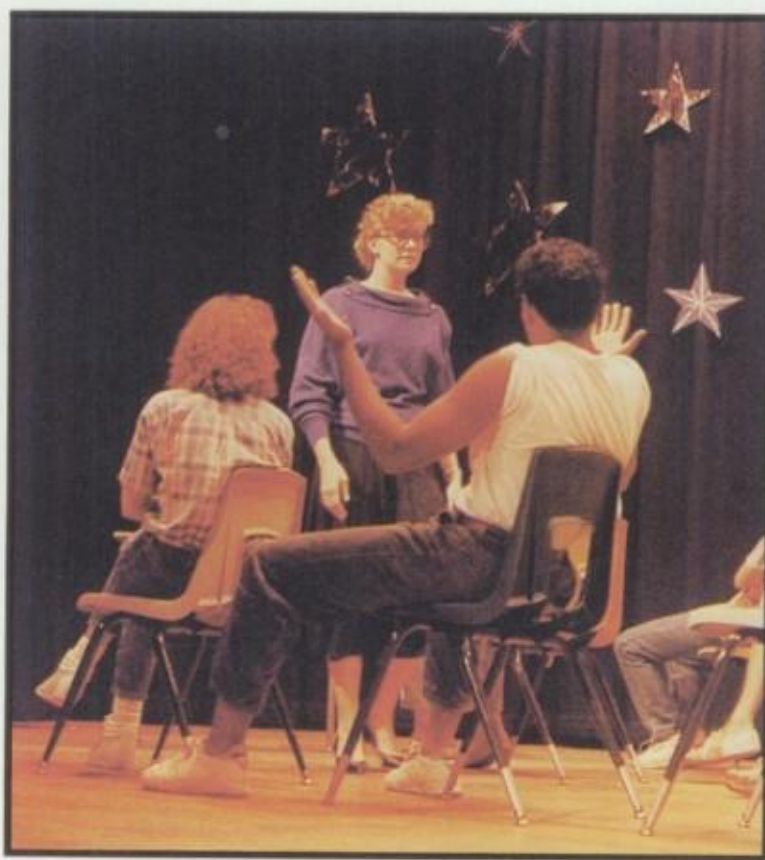

Homecoming week was filled with many activities to increase school spirit. Each day represented a different style of dress including T-shirt Day, Plaid Day, Western Day, Fifties Day, and Red, White, and Blue Day. The Student Council raised money by showing movies in the auditorium. On Wednesday, Child Care sponsored a Rock-a-thon to benefit the Vanderbilt's Children's Hospital, and on Thursday students bought tickets to see either a freshman football or a girls' soccer game. A Thursday night bonfire generated a blaze of spirit. Friday, an outdoor pep rally was held, followed by traditional activities around the campus. These activities included various booths and food stands, a dance, the Video Show, an obstacle course, and the powder puff football game. After the victorious game Friday night, the homecoming dance, "Living in Dreamtime," was sponsored by the Student Council.

Shana Pounders and Brian Ritter enjoy time away from class at the soccer field.

Gina Greene tries on a new personality as the teacher in the Video Show.

Chris Randolph and Doug Patrick happily give their time to the Rock-a-thon sponsored by Child Care to benefit Vanderbilt Children's Hospital.

The band leads the cheering with one of its pep songs during the pep rally. Tammy Trail, Shannon Reed, Lynette Mayfield, Jay Matthews, Keith Sanders, and Kirk Sauls enjoy watching the bonfire.

Mr. Francis and his clan form a fine clash of plaids on Plaid Day. J. Francis, G. Davis, and C. Alsup keep their eye on the homecoming activities.

Jan Smith and Denise Trent laugh as they anticipate the junior victory over the seniors in the Spirit Chain Contest. Aprille Paschal and Tracy Burks are looking for a miraculous homecoming night.

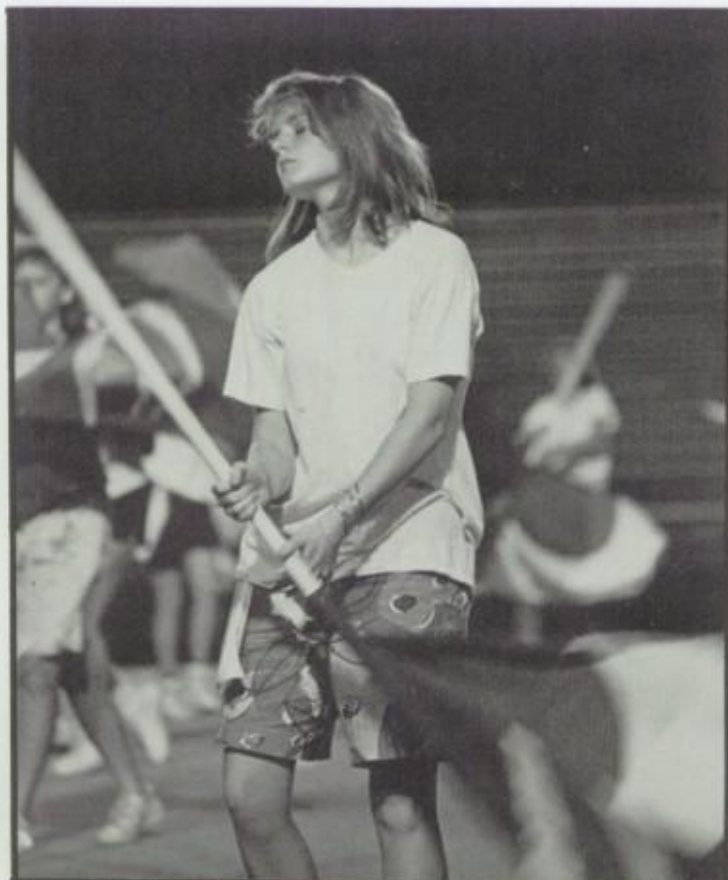

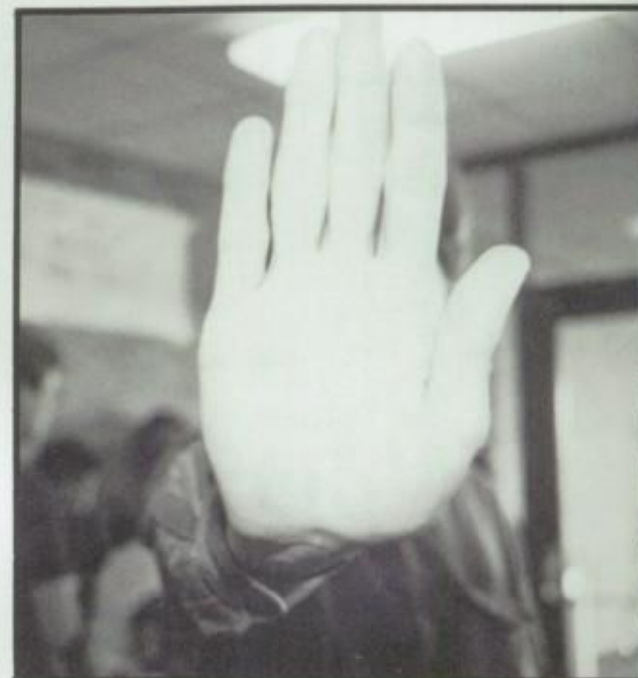

Despite The Mishaps, OUR CLASS SHINES THROUGH

Have you ever done something that made you feel stupid or just plain silly? Well we know that everyone has committed at least one foot-in-mouth act. So, we searched and searched for proof of our classical Patriot faux pas. They range from ridiculous expressions to funny motion-stopped poses. Many are the result of the person trying to get away from the camera. A few are even the fault of the mischievous camera. Students are not the only victims of a temporary lack of composure. Even teachers are found unaware. Of course, they would tell you that it is caused by being around teenagers too much. We took the best of the best and put them on these pages. They are all funny, but remember, despite all our mishaps, our class shines through.

Our friendly photographer Paul Vaughn.
Amy Jemigan may be patriotic, but she is not a bald eagle.
STOP! In the name of love . . .

So, Bryan Behne and Kim Boyd, this is what band does to you?!
Even one of the Patriot cows has her moment!

And you thought that Mrs. Burnette's hair was always perfect! The camera made the photographer look silly in this picture. In Mrs. O'Brien's spare time, she hops on a Honda and rides off into the sunset. Snap to attention, guys!

Evidently Mike Evans, Jeff Pond, and John Kenney didn't believe there was film in the camera. Mrs. Taylor looks as if she is saying, "Ah, Pooooor baby!" Shannon Taylor and Janeen Haller display their spirit and mouths.

Oakland Enters The Computer Age

Before OHS became a reality, the administration began looking to the future. The desire to be on the growing edge of Rutherford County's educational needs has been foremost in the minds of leadership. The year 1986-87 has been no exception.

For the first time, computers have been used to help keep faster and better records. When the students arrived in the fall, they were given their schedules which had been worked out on computers by Mr. Kinslow and Mr. Blair.

When a student was absent or left school during the day, records were filed in the computers. These same computers printed a schedule for check-out purposes or called home to inquire about absenteeism.

At the end of each grading period, the computers printed report cards. The record-keeping became a continual process. Computers can, however, make mistakes which would never have occurred to humans. According to some computer-produced report cards, Mrs. Alsop teaches Chemistry, some students take seven courses, and some Honor Roll students received averages of four points for a six-weeks! As everyone grew accustomed to the new procedures these creative errors grew more and more infrequent.

This technological wonder helps reduce the mounds of paper work for teachers and staff. Now they have more time to attend to the daily needs of the students. Teachers have more time to prepare daily lessons.

As with any new development, there have been some problems getting started. However, the future looks bright. Once again OHS is on the edge of tomorrow.

School secretary and administrator ex-officio Toni Northern keeps a computer terminal handy to keep track of students' schedules and their comings and goings.

Community Rallies In Support

Jeff Dodson has been unable to attend his Senior year due to a serious automobile accident which occurred this summer. Jeff has been a very active Patriot and athlete. Not only was he a member of the National Honor Society, but also excelled in soccer, playing for Oakland, the Murfreesboro Strikers, and was voted M.V.P. for the Tennessee State Select Team. Throughout this ordeal, Jeff has remained in the thoughts of students and family friends. There have been several fund-raisers; even during the Oakland-Riverdale game, rivalry was set aside as buckets were passed among the fans to raise money to help pay the exorbitant medical costs. Jeff's friends continue to visit him often and give him and his family support. We, the students and faculty of Oakland, send Jeff and his family our best wishes for a great recovery.

Good news from youth

To the editor,

There is a lot to be said about the youth of today — a lot of good! You are always hearing about the "bad stuff" but seldom hear about the "good things" pertaining to our young people. I would just like to confirm, based on first-hand experience, that there are many, many, good, decent and caring young people around — especially in Murfreesboro.

My nephew, Jeff Dodson, was seriously injured in an automobile accident on the 18th of July and remains in a coma at the Murfreesboro Health Care Center. I am overwhelmed at the willingness of these kids to help a friend in need by giving of their time to help raise funds for Jeff's medical bills. They have the opportunity to be involved in so many other activities, yet they have chosen to spend many hours visiting with Jeff and participating in special functions of his benefit — such as "Jeff Dodson Day" at both Oakland and Riverdale high schools, the "12-Hour Rock-A-Thon," a car wash, babysitting services, participating in the "Murfreesboro Soccer Club Jeff Dodson Day," etc.

The kindness and understanding of these kids is overwhelming. They visit Jeff daily — some come three and four times a day, sometimes even before school hours. They talk with Jeff and share their daily experiences with him. Some of them read to him. The doctors tell us this is the kind of therapy that is needed at this particular time, and our young people are faithfully and diligently following through. Our prayer is that one day soon Jeff will be able to personally tell them that he knew they were there with him throughout his long ordeal and just how much their support meant to his recovery.

Let me commend today's youth for the care and concern they show for those in need.

Again, thanks, young people!

COME "JOIN HANDS FOR THE DRY DOCK"

Four years ago, an issue was brought to the attention of the Student Awareness Organization and Miss Betty Hamilton. The issue was that many teenagers in Murfreesboro were using illegal drugs and alcohol. Teachers and students then met to discuss possible solutions. A program was designed to educate the teens about drugs, and Miss Hamilton and the OSAO board went before the City Council and Commissioners to ask for help and for a place that the students could get together in a drug-free setting. This place soon became known as "The Dry Dock."

The Dry Dock is designed to give teenagers a place to go instead of hanging out in parking lots and shopping centers, which is also illegal here. But more importantly, The Dry Dock is to discourage teens from ruining their lives by using drugs and alcohol. Students are taking contributions for renovations of the building and are already more than halfway towards meeting their goal. The Dry Dock is to be located at the corner of Church and Vine streets. When it is completed, there will be a dance floor, furnishings, subdued lighting, music, and a large parking lot.

A safe haven for teenagers is now closer to reality, thanks to the work and persistence of Miss Hamilton, OSAO, and the Teen Board of Rutherford County High Schools.

A Safe Harbor for Teens

The Dry Dock is a drug and alcohol free center for Rutherford County high school students.

Miss Hamilton is pleased with the progress.

The cheerleaders helped to raise spirits at the "Hands Across Rutherford county" celebration.

Dry Dock sweatshirts became an important asset to the Dry Dock in gaining both public awareness and popularity among the students.

Patriot

Patriots display their wide range of academic and social interests by participating in the diverse clubs and organizations. Serving community needs, exploring foreign cultures, studying scripture, investigating career interests, developing performing talents, and boosting school spirit are among the many possibilities offered by club membership. Students reveal their Patriot class by accepting these opportunities.

We Have

Maggie, you are such a person! I could wish you finished school! You're a really unique person! I wish you would have your year here! I like you + hope you have lots of friends + fun! We've all missed you! Love, Denise Miller

No school is complete without the individuals who add life to the system. At Oakland each person contributes to Patriot superiority. The faculty offers unsurpassed teaching and guidance, and the staff keeps OHS well-fed and looking good. The students here make the greatest student body ever!

CLASS

Quality Leadership Moves Oakland Forward

Teachers have the opportunity to meet the challenge of higher educational requirements, but the opportunity holds many non-teaching challenges as well. "Climbing" Governor Lamar Alexander's Career Ladder requires extensive evaluations, attendance at workshops, and for some teachers year-round teaching or a return to college. Other aspects of a teacher's job are higher student-teacher ratios, decreased teacher morale, and an unsatisfying pay scale. These factors prove what teachers have said: "Only those with a sincere wish to help today's youth should pursue teaching."

Holding his granddaughter Kristen, Mr. Swafford reveals his soft spot.

Gayle Blair

Asst. Principal Blair serves as dean of boys and this year assumed the responsibility of computerizing OHS. His countless hours reveal his dedication.

Betty Hamilton

Besides serving as the dean of girls, Miss Hamilton also sponsors OSAO. Asst. Principal Hamilton is one of the driving forces behind the new Dry Dock.

Linda Jackson

As Asst. Principal in charge of academics, Mrs. Jackson guides teachers through their evaluations, aids Mr. Swafford, and schedules the school calendar.

Carol Alsup

I teach American History and am also sponsor of the Junior Class. Although my students are important to me, my home life and family come first.

Emily Burnette

I teach drama and speech and am sponsor of the Oakland Thespians. I am active in the dramatic arts and enjoy producing two plays and the Video Show each year.

Nancy Carr

I teach Basic I and II and Computer Literacy. I sponsor the newly created Computer Club, and I enjoy the time spent with my eighth grade tennis-playing son.

In addition to being librarian, I enjoy sponsoring the National Honor Society. My favorite pasttimes include reading, eating, and playing with my grandchildren.

Sandra Doubler

I teach Food & Nutrition, Family Living, and Interior Design; I sponsor the Future Homemakers of America. At home I'm busy with family needlework design company.

James Francis

As Latin teacher I treasure knowing students and sharing the adventure of studying languages. Language study removes barriers which can polarize mankind.

I teach Spanish and co-sponsor the Spanish Club. My five children keep most outside activities "kid-related;" my few quiet moments are filled with crafts and reading.

William Hosse

I teach Vocational Cooperative Education and sponsor the VICA Club. I love sports and follow all our school teams. I spend free time deer hunting and roaming the hills.

Jack Jolly

I teach Civics and am also baseball coach. I've been at OHS fourteen years. I enjoy officiating football and watching all types of sports in my leisure time.

"If you don't learn anything else, learn to think." Years from now my students may forget Chaucer's first name, but I hope they will recall my words, "Think, think, think!"

Sam Moore

I enjoy teaching American History and serving as sponsor of the Senior Class and Beta Club. I am state chairman of the Beta Council and am active in the Army Reserve.

Brad Rogers

I teach band, music theory, and flag classes, and I conduct the pep band and stage band. I golf and work on my MG in the rare moments when I'm not at school.

Mr. John Hopkins is a hard-working custodian at Oakland. Mr. Collier jokes around with a group of students.

Thanks! Without These People, Oakland Would Be In A Predicament!

The custodians at Oakland are well liked. Though they "shoo" us out of the building daily, they ARE doing their job; the staff removes us from underfoot to prepare the school for a fresh start each day.

The cafeteria staff is also popular — especially after third period! Though some persist in eating hamburgers or pizza EVERY day, they provide a varied menu from which we may choose.

The first face to greet you in guidance is new. Mrs. Wheaton has joined our staff to allow Mrs. Henard time to keep up with the sometimes tricky computers.

Mr. and Mrs. Collier are a familiar presence around Oakland. Mrs. Wheaton is the newest addition to the guidance department.

Oakland Patriots Have Been Tucked Under Samsonite's Wings

Oakland has been very lucky to have been sponsored in the Adopt-a-School program for another year by Samsonite Furniture Company. Samsonite has helped by donating their time, aid, and services. Early in the year, Samsonite formed a basketball team to play an Oakland faculty team; proceeds benefitted our Beautification Committee. They have also donated much needed furniture for the band, yearbook, computer math, and other classrooms, and they have rechromed the ROTC helmets.

Samsonite held "practice" job interviews to help students prepare for real encounters with prospective employers. We are indebted to the staff and executives of Samsonite for their time and effort. We wish to extend our appreciation to them, especially those members of the committee serving Oakland.

John Massey, Ed Clark, Laura Jones, Tom Jenkins, Gary Hall, and Bob Lynch (not pictured) work on Samsonite's Adopt-a-School Committee.

Tom Jenkins is the Vice President of Operations at Samsonite. Swivel bases for lawn chairs receive a dip in the paint bath. An inspector's careful examination of new chairs helps ensure Samsonite's quality.

We Are (Stomp, Stomp) Seniors!!

As a freshman first enters Oakland, the prospect of walking across the stage and receiving a diploma seems remote. This journey begins on the first day of school as freshmen search for a kind of person to lead them to their classes. Experience helps the sophomores display more confidence as established friendships grow; juniors vibrate with the excitement of being upperclassman and selecting class rings.

The senior year is filled with fun, hard work, and anticipation of graduation. Thrills begin at the first pep rally and continue throughout the year. As time draws near to graduation, the seniors grow elated about the new possibilities which will soon begin. At the same time each person experiences feelings of inner sadness as this chapter of his life closes.

The Way We Look

In these hallowed halls there are many intriguing and diverse clothing styles to be seen. Styles range from those featured in such magazines as Cosmopolitan and Vogue to the highly individualistic styles worn by the devoted "new-wave" or "punk" music fans. Also popular this year is the "denim look" by Guess and Levi's as well as casual clothing like designer rugby and sweat shirts by Coca-Cola and Swatch.

The main theme of this year's style, however, is bold yet classy. Mid-calf to ankle-length skirts are definitely required by the girls as are oversized jackets, boots, and the perfect accessories. For the guys, casual jackets in denim or leather, patterned or plaid oxfords, and designer sweat-shirts are popular. Whatever the look, however, the senior class represents style.

Middle: Candi Truesdell, Nicka Curran, Keith Sanders, and Ronnie Dowdy.

Bottom: Andy Bostaph, Vatsana Chantara, Hattasady Boonthisan, and Mike McCann.

Being A Senior Is . . .

. . . studying Shakespeare for days and days.

. . . completing form after form after form. Here, Tammy Batey shows that a lot of time is needed.

Becoming a senior involves more than just applying to colleges and attending graduation parties. During the winter months, English teachers band together to assign the dreaded TERM PAPER, a project demanding many long hours of work. First there are trips to the MTSU library which are spent pouring over books, periodicals, and microfiche looking for just the right topic, but the topics sometimes emerge from less scholarly sources. Many seniors admitted to finding a topic while watching TV; someone decided to research the Mafia after watching a recent Melissa Gilbert movie. Sisters, mothers, and teachers have also offered topics.

Once the student selects his topic, he begins compiling note cards and developing a rough outline. Having secured the teacher's preliminary approval, he begins refining the outline and attempting the actual writing. Since their grades are heavily determined by performance on the term paper project, students strive to achieve their best. Its completion is such a relief that it is viewed as reaching a peak of one's high school career. Exhausted from their efforts, students look forward to their final grades and graduation.

Governor Makes Final Visit Thanks Tennesseans For The Past 8 Years

OHS hosted a very distinguished visitor this year when Lamar Alexander, our governor for the past eight years, returned to Oakland for yet another visit. Governor Alexander first visited Oakland during his thousand-mile campaign "Walk Across Tennessee," and he has been here several times since then. However, this year ends Alexander's last term in office, and his visit to Oakland was his last as governor of the state. He thanked the students for their support and spoke of dreams for them and for the state's future. A special kinship has been created between the seniors and Governor Alexander as this year brings with it an ending and a beginning in the lives of both.

Governor Alexander nears the end of his term by retracing his footsteps from his walk across Tennessee eight years earlier. Cherillyn Ace, Lettie Jernigan, Charles Butler, and Pat Meagher accompany Governor Alexander into the building moments before he addresses the student body.

O Oakland, Home Of The Patriots

When asked to write a three line poem with the letters OHS, our seniors gave many different replies. Some are sentimental, while others are funny. Here are glimpses of Oakland through senior eyes.

Open and honest for Hours on end,
Sharing our secrets with our true friends.

Outrageous is the way we act,
Hoping we won't get caught and smacked!
Spirit at OHS is definitely back!

Oh you can do it, if you just believe
How fast the time flies for your diploma to receive and
So sad it is when you must leave!

Oh the many hours I have spent here
However not in vain,
So let it be said, I have never raised Cain!!!

Oh how I enjoyed my senior year,
Hallelujah the time is near,
So I can finally get out of here!

Of all the high schools in the land,
Here is the one that can't be canned!
So be it when we're gone, our names will always carry on!

Oh, how we will miss Oakland High;
How after graduation we'll be in heaven.
Seniors rule forever as the CLASS of '87!!!

"Oakland's Favorite Shows"

In a recent poll, 100 students were asked to name their favorite movie. The winner was "Top Gun" starring Tom Cruise with 28% of the votes. Coming in a distant second was the John Hughes film "The Breakfast Club" which starred such teen favorites as Molly Ringwald, Emilio Estevez, Judd Nelson, Ally Sheedy, and Anthony Michael Hall. Other movies that were listed as favorites ranged from "American Gigolo" and "Class" to "Pee-Wee's Big Adventure" and "The Boy Who Could Fly."

In the same poll, the students were asked about their favorite television shows. The winner proved that Mr. Neilson does not pay attention to what Oakland students watch, with the ABC romantic comedy "Moonlighting" victorious. The top-rated NBC comedy "The Cosby Show" came in a close second, and newcomer to ABC "Growing Pains" captured third. Among others were "Alf," "Knott's Landing," "St. Elsewhere," and the classic 60's television show "The Monkees."

Oakland students, feeling that their taste rivals that of the critics, chose their own favorites for television and movie viewing.

Holly Haynes received a National Merit Letter of Commendation, and Monica Elrod attained the rank of National Merit Semi-finalist.

Mr. Moore's task of sponsoring the senior class is made easier by the assistance of responsible helpers who are willing to work. This year's senior helpers are Amy Wrenn (typed senior lists), Elizabeth Powell (checked name spellings and worked with English teachers), Sandra Lewis and Beth Morton (dealt with Jostens and helped with orders for class rings and graduation essentials), Amy Wells (collected money for senior projects), and Melinda Allen (helped plan the prom and fundraisers). Also helping are Kristy Young and Dawn Barnes, who played a large role in the blood drive and other projects. In addition, the helpers grade papers and count ballots. These workers have been indispensable in preparing the Class of '87 for graduation.

Seniors Help Others

On December the fifth, the Beta Club and Health Occupations classes, with the help of the American Red Cross, sponsored a blood drive. Seniors made up the majority of the donors because of the required age of seventeen. One hundred forty-nine students signed up to give blood and one hundred thirty-nine were actually able to donate, although some were stopped due to height, weight, or some health reasons. Each person donated a pint of blood, with each pint helping three people. Therefore, a total of four hundred eleven people benefitted by their efforts.

Refreshments were provided compliments of the home economics classes. Freshman gym classes and their teachers were very cooperative and moved their classes for the day to another area of the school. Groans and moans, oohs and ahs, filled the rooms as a few students fainted. Regardless of these minute problems, the blood drive ran very smoothly with many students assisting the Red Cross in gathering preliminary information and ushering donors. The Red Cross was very complimentary of our students, and their participation was greatly appreciated as the Patriots came through with the style and character they always seem to exhibit.

Candi Truesdell stands ready to offer moral support as Malcolm Foe attentively watches the beginning steps.

Noble Patriot Dreams

"If you had the power to do one thing for the world, what would it be?" This question evoked many different responses from seniors. Some of the most common responses were to eliminate poverty, to cure cancer, and to create world peace. Many socially conscious students want to clean up all the trash in the world and to eliminate nuclear dumps and nuclear arms. Many express the desire to be able to help others build self-esteem and to share joy and laughter. Even though OHS students are preoccupied with classwork and extracurricular activities, they remain aware of those less fortunate than themselves.

Check It Out!

Steve Matthews offers encouragement to Tomicka Lester as Vaughn Lester, Rob Womack, Kenneth Sellars, and Kenny Matthews prove that these creepy visitors to Mr. Harter's class really are harmless. Don't worry, Tomicka! They're more afraid of you than you are of them.

Isn't That Ridiculous?

Have you ever noticed those extraordinary phrases used in everyday conversation? Most people seem to understand these idioms although others may be confused by the obvious torques in the dialect. I'm hip to all the new defunked figures of speech around me; they're everywhere! These distortions of the language range from trippin' commentaries of one or two words to awesome compliments, although they may not seem to be compliments at face value, to hints of advice for attitude checks. If you are one of those poor souls who has trouble getting a grip on the conversation, it's a sad thing, but, don't worry about it. Throw some of the following statements into your vocabulary, and soon you can rattle right along with your friends. Yeah! That's it! That's the ticket! Twice!

Kind of
For real
Get a clue
Ya think Really
I'm serious, man.
Let's party!
Well
Oh! But yes!
What a spaz
Kids today
Knock yourself out.
That's casual.
Watch that dog.
He's too fine.
Solve your own problems.
Oh! But no!
Oh! Isn't that special?
Somebody's gotta do it.
I can only roll my eyes so far.

So what if they laugh? Do it anyway.
Look buddy . . . they'll just have to get over it.

Changes Craze Students

Seniors this year were upset to discover that they would be unable to become exempt from taking final exams before they could graduate. In previous years, a high average combined with few absences could permit any student to be exempt from final exams. The ruling which prohibits exemptions from finals is the result of the Tennessee State Educational Board's attempt to increase attendance in the classroom. This not only stunned the seniors, but also infuriated the underclassmen who were required to take them as well. However, taking the examinations wasn't the worst result of this new idea.

Seniors discovered, not long after ordering invitations, that graduation had been postponed a week. This was the worst blow of all. Not only would postponing graduation break the tradition of leaving school a week earlier than the other students, but senior trips would also be delayed a week! Among the many lessons Oakland teaches are patience and perseverance.

Will Hawkins shows how some students react to the change, while Gina Greene takes it in stride.

Sounds Of '87

Music is one part of life that teenagers feel is essential. Students often begin their day with the alarm clock awakening them to the sounds of their favorite radio station and continue on to school with the music blaring out the car windows. Even when students abandon their cars and enter the school, music does not have to be left behind; a walk down the hall reveals the sounds of an easy listening station played over the intercom. Many students end the day doing their homework listening to the rocking sounds of a stereo set at volume level ten.

Music also controls another part of a teenager's life, his pocketbook. Much money is spent buying radios, cassette players, compact disk players, and speakers. Still more money goes for the records, tapes, and disks required to enjoy the investment in the equipment.

According to a senior poll, the Beatles and Chicago scored a close first and second as the most frequently chosen musical artists. Other groups which rank high are the Monkees, Journey, AC/DC, Bon Jovi, Led Zeppelin, and the Scorpions. Topping the list for country music is Alabama, while REM, INXS, the Police, and Violent Femmes representing a New Wave sound round out the lower half of the scoring.

Being "Eggs"-tra Careful

Every year at Oakland in the first weeks of December the school is visited by eggs. Strange as this may sound, students in Mrs. Freeman's Parenting Classes are required to carry around an egg decorated like a baby for one week. Caring for the eggs introduces students to some of the responsibilities they will face when they start their families. The object is to keep the eggs "alive" for an entire week.

Many creative students become really involved with this project. They draw faces on the eggs, create hair out of yarn, and even dress them. One freshman actually brought a miniature skateboard for his twins' enjoyment. They then carry their "children" around with them in baskets, blankets, or bags created for their eggs. Carrying the eggs around, however, presents challenges.

The care of the eggs counts as a test grade, and this gives so-called friends the incentive to try to keep the "parents" on their toes, but most students remain vigilant and manage to turn in a healthy "child" at week's end.

A Moment Of Silence

By a stream in the woods, walking in a field, and on a swing in the park are some places where Oakland students enjoy being alone. Most people have a place of serenity where they can spend time alone and mull over activities and problems in which they are involved. This "hide-out" is a prized possession for many people and will be remembered for years to come as a place where they made important decisions. Their own room at home was the most popular answer given by students because a bedroom is a personal place that has to be shared with no one else. Another place that was mentioned often was the student's own car for the same reason as the room — it was a personal, private place shared with no one else. Other enjoyable places for students are more uncommon. One person said his favorite place to be alone is behind his drum set. Yet another person had an interesting and beautiful place to spend time — a quiet spot by the lake. A few students like going on a walk in the park by themselves. Places mentioned were sometimes far away, such as being alone on a beach in Florida. No matter where the place may be, Oakland students agreed that having time and a place to be alone with their thoughts is essential.

De Beach! De Beach!

What do students at Oakland look forward to most? Besides graduation the most anticipated of all events is their "Senior Trip." Most students leave immediately after graduation with their friends to the "party" place of their choice. These destinations include Vermont for skiing excursions, exotic places such as the Caribbean or the Virgin Islands, and the ever popular Daytona Beach, where thousands of students flock to absorb the rays. Some imaginative students are even planning a cross-country excursion to hit all the popular hangouts from the Carolinas to California.

Trekking to these chosen places often proves to be quite a challenge. Students can be seen dominating the highways and biways in search of their destination, while many choose a "safer" route such as flying or sailing by cruise ship so they are sure to arrive at their attended destination.

Students enjoy their "senior trip" mainly because it gives them an opportunity to experience life by their own standards and rules. They enjoy skiing until they are unable to ski anymore or "lying out" at the beach until they are so brown (or so red) that their friends will be insanely jealous. Of course the many new friends also make the trip an exciting and memorable experience. The only bad thing about "senior trip" seems to be . . . leaving.

Graduation is one of the most important events in a person's life. Not only is it the culmination of thirteen years of learning, it is more importantly the beginning of the rest of life. High school has prepared us, but it is now our responsibility to succeed in this world.

In Memoriam Amanda Carol Wrenn

Here on this earth we know the time is at hand
For us to take that big step of God's divine plan.
Amy, our loved one, has passed through our arms
To a world of beauty and a world of charms;
From a place where time is but a second to all,
Who will live for eternity in that heavenly hall.
One second is gone, and your second it was
That was filled with peace and love for us;
But though your second may be gone, you left us a part
That we shall always remember and hold dear to our hearts.
As we rest at night and in the morning are awakened,
We shall always remember how quickly your life
was taken.
As your time is passed, we shall hope even more
To meet you some day on that eternal shore.

Senior Memories

The purpose of this yearbook is to protect permanently the mark that the Class of 1987 has left. We have seen Oakland become the Cinderella of AAA Football in Tennessee and sweep into the Clinic Bowl to be crowned champion. As freshmen, we saw our basketball team stay atop the polls and make its way to the championship game at Vanderbilt. We came away without the win, but the excitement remains. The great things that have occurred in the four years we have been Patriots are too numerous to recount. They have collectively made Oakland High School the best it can be.

Not every day has been a happy one at Oakland. Our class has had much more than its share of tragedy. During our freshman year, we cried when senior Jay Hutchison was killed by lightning while practicing football. The junior year brought with it the sudden death of Esther Mathis, and during the summer of '86 Jeff Dodson was seriously injured in a car accident. We could not seem to leave sadness behind. Over the Thanksgiving holidays, Amy Wrenn was killed in yet another car accident. The tragedy to which our class has been exposed shows us that life is valuable. We can never take it for granted.

Before the excitement of graduating fades away, each of us will say our goodbyes. Some will wait until after the traditional trip to the beaches of Florida; others will simply part. Many friendships will weather turmoil and survive for many years to come. We will always remember the great times we had as Patriots of Oakland High School and the Class of 1987.

Juniors

Arrived? and ARRIVING!

Upperclassmen — at last! The junior year has arrived! One finally feels like a part of the school and a part of something special as well. A junior must cope with such subjects as economics, American history, chemistry, physical science, and — of course — English. A major headache is the necessity of finding a class to pair with economics. Naturally, one must find time to stay after school for science labs. One never knows what may happen! Some days the experiments end with a puff of smoke. Another day witnesses a battery explosion. What is something really went wrong? BOOM! No more labs?

There are many exciting challenges for the eager junior. Testing in the form of PSAT is always an awesome experience. Class rings pose such dilemmas as deciding which ring to order and how to pay for it. But ah! when they arrive!

Lunch time presents an opportunity to have some fun with the freshmen. It appears freshmen fail to understand that if a table is claimed — A TABLE IS CLAIMED! A common sight is the game of musical tables. The unsuspecting freshman places his books on a table that is TAKEN, returns with his lunch, and finds no chair, no table, and often no books.

Fully aware of only one more year before graduation, the juniors are still "Arriving." Shocked and elated, they realize that by passing final exams they have become SENIORS!

What Do I Take Next Semester?

Even before a student becomes a junior, he is required to take specific classes. All juniors have to adjust their schedules to make room for American History and either Economics or Marketing I. Though the adjustments seem minor, many students have problems finding a half-credit course to pair with economics. The guidance department tries to help with this seemingly slight problem, yet many times students feel their options are too limited. However, one can avoid the one-semester course dilemma by choosing Marketing I.

P hew! S cholastic A ptitude is T iring!!

Many memorable events occur in the junior year of high school. Perhaps one of the most overwhelming events is taking the PSAT. The anxiety of the unknown builds tension as the juniors enter the science lecture room for the test. Many students mistakenly consider the test simply a three hour exam. Others feel it is another way of "getting out of class." To most students, it is a task in preparation for the future.

To the despair of many, the PSAT proves to be even more of an ordeal than anticipated. The test seems "filled with horrifying questions" which appear to go on and on and on. Carefully, at first, the answers are studied and a choice is made. Suddenly the time flies by and urgently the answers are chosen. And then — it is over! But so many questions were not answered!

One junior was heard to remark, "Where did they get those words in the vocabulary section!" Another exclaimed, "I've never seen such hard reading selections!" Judy Lockman commented that it was constructed differently than any other test she had ever taken.

In spite of the difficulty of the test, many felt the time was well spent. As Beth Fiveash commented, "Even though the PSAT is difficult, it is a great help in preparing for the ACT and SAT." Perhaps these experienced test-takers will suffer a little less anxiety when faced with the next exam hurdle on the way to college.

The juniors begin the testing with enthusiasm which develops into concentration.

Class Of '88

Starts Fad

During summer vacation junior officers explored ways to improve the class's chance of winning the pep rally spirit stick. They discussed all types of possibilities. Finally the idea came! They visited screen art shops, obtained estimates, and envisioned "money" for the treasury.

By the opening of the school year, they were ready with their idea. They began to collect the signatures of juniors on a special sheet of paper. Just in time for the football homecoming pep rally, the "autographed" shirts arrived. The fad had begun!

Soon many clubs were using the sweatshirt-T-shirt idea. Now students have several options when T-shirt day is announced.

Chip Clement, Rhonda Pittard, and Tracey Bowman model the new T-shirts.

How Does OHS Spell Relief?

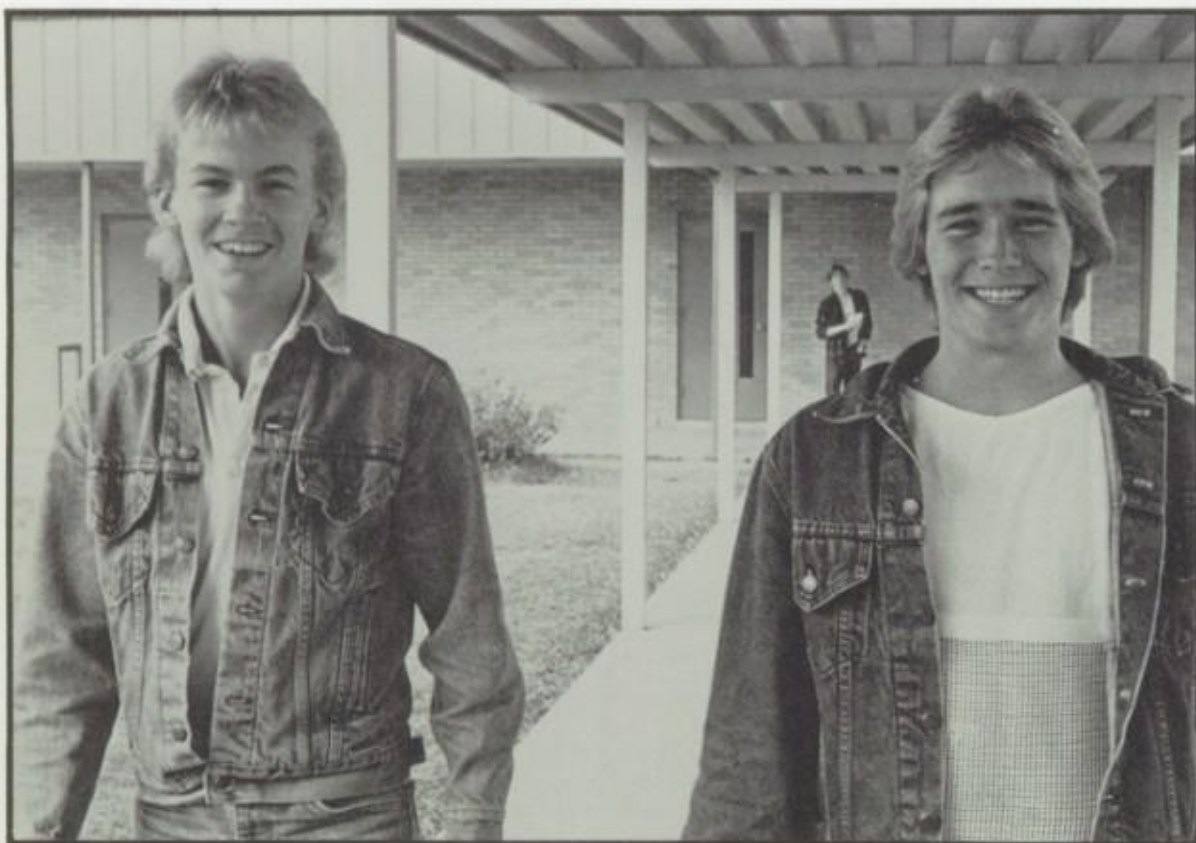

Lunch — a five letter word that means relief for all. For 45 minutes everyone is spared tests, assignments, and lectures. Students spend their lunch time in various ways. The majority migrate to the cafeteria — their goal is to accomplish more talking than eating. Sitting at the long tables, they talk and gobble food at the same time, often yelling down to the opposite end of the table to relay some news. Those who don't eat or who eat "on the run" roam the halls and cafeteria looking for some excitement to entertain them. Some students choose to sit in the halls eating a snack lunch and watching the people pass by. Whatever the method of passing the lunch period happens to be, these 45 minutes remain a welcome break for all.

Sharon Soxayachanh, Souvivanh Chindavong, and Amphayvanh Vongphakdy spend lunch in a quiet place.

Our Own Red Baron

April Davis began flying in February, 1986. Her instructor is Guy Rogers, an Oakland graduate. "I love flying, but I haven't always wanted to be an airline pilot. I've been in airplanes since I was six years old, so I decided it would be interesting to fly one." April read in a magazine that only two percent of all commercial airline pilots are women and that by the time she graduates there will be a demand for pilots. She will have to wait until she is 23 years old to get her pilot's license. She has learned that getting her license could cost over $12,000, but considering that some pilots earn up to $175,000 a year, she feels it will be a worthwhile investment.

"The first time I flew the plane by myself it was so unusual. I couldn't believe I was actually flying it. When you're up in the air, you really don't feel as if you're moving fast, but you're going at least 100 mph. It is so beautiful up in the air above the clouds. Flying a plane is safer than driving a car, and it's even easier!"

April plans to attend MTSU two years because it offers one of the best aerospace programs in the area; she'll then transfer to a college in Florida which offers more specialized training. "Many people laugh when I tell them that I want to be a pilot. I guess they don't think girls can do it, but I love planes and plan to have a great career flying."

Cathy Miller

La Directrice

At LeBeau Chateau one may find Cathy Miller working as a weekend manager. Each Saturday from eight till four, she answers the phone and the myriad questions which callers ask. She supplies such information as the amount of rent, size of apartments, and availability of rental units. When prospective tenants arrive "to look," she guides them to a model. If someone decides to rent an apartment, Cathy assists him in completing necessary forms and hands him a receipt for his deposit. As each month ends, Cathy collects rent and keeps careful records for the owners.

This part-time job provides good experience since Cathy plans to major in business management at college. Cathy seems to enjoy her job overall. However, she has found one drawback: "I cannot get any extra sleep on weekends because of my working hours."

Class Of '90'

What does it feel like to be a sophomore? Pat Garrett reflects, "Being a sophomore is like being a star in the sky — you're just there; it doesn't really matter. You're not a greeny, but you're not a big senior either. When you are a freshman, everything is fairly new to you. Everyone who isn't a freshman gets his kicks calling you a greeny, but at least you're noticed. Being a sophomore doesn't really have any advantages except that you are familiar with everything. There are disadvantages, too. For example, in sports you don't have much playihng time unless you are exceptionally good. I guess that should be expected when you get into high school. I look at this way: make the most of your sophomore year because you will only be there once in life."

Stephanie Brown expresses her thoughts on the tenth grade. "Being a sophomore is like being caught between a rock and a hard place. You're not really new here, and you're not quite seasoned yet. You don't get much respect, but you get more than you got as a freshman. As a sophomore you now know how to push freshmen around in the halls, how to find your way around school, and how you're supposed to carry yourself. In extracurricular activities like basketball you finally move up to Varsity and learn what it's like to play with older, more experienced players. You also get to take better classes. Most of all, you get to dream of becoming a JUNIOR."

Members of the sophomore class seem to be enjoying catching up on the latest events at a pep rally in the gym.

"The Long Rehearsals"

Rebecca Baskin has been studying dance in one form or another since she was four years old and studied both ballet and pantomime. When she was nine, she began studying ballet and character at the Murfreesboro Dance Center; she began dancing on pointe when she was twelve. Two years ago she added the study of jazz and now participates in MDC's jazz company.

Rebecca has enjoyed many opportunities to perform. "I performed character dances at the Oktoberfest once and at the Street Festival for three years. I was in the Arabian dance in the MDC's production of "The Nutcracker" in 1982. My favorite performance was in the Murfreesboro Little Theater production of "Hans Christian Anderson." The long rehearsals took up most of my time even though the play debuted in the summer."

BMX Racing: Burns And Hoopy- Doos

Almost everyone learns to ride a bike at a young age. However, though most people ride for pleasure, some carry the sport to a degree of much greater difficulty. Robby Powers is one who has taken the hard route in bike riding. Robby began watching BMX races as a child and started competing himself five years ago.

Many sacrifices must be made to compete. High prices are paid for good equipment including a bike, helmet, elbow pads, and knee pads. To be a top racer, one must spend a great deal of time in training; Robby spends at least two hours each day. His practice has paid off in success at stunts like jumping over a car with his bike. There is a rough side, too; in training Robby has suffered numerous scratches and bruises, cuts requiring stitches, and a broken finger; some racers have suffered far more serious injuries.

Race tracks include jumps, burns (curved banks), and hoopy doos (bumps). Robby doesn't compete in the winter, but in the summer he competes every Sunday. Each race has ten to twelve competitors who compete by age and class. The classes are Beginner, Novice, and Expert, and bikers range in age from six to thirty-five. Robby has won first place a few times and has also earned trophies and ribbons. Recently he competed in the World Cup at Dixieland.

BMX racing may require a great deal of time and effort, but Robby Powers thinks that it's worth it. Big crowds, danger, and excitement draw many people to the races. Robby feels that almost anyone who became involved would enjoy it.

A Turning Point: The Sophomore Year

The sophomore year can be a turning point in one's high school career. The yearbook staff, in conjunction with sophomore teachers, came to the following conclusions about sophomores.

They seem more confident and more comfortable than they did as freshmen. They are also beginning to be more concerned about grades and graduation requirements. They show considerably more maturity and self-discipline than they did during their freshman year. (They don't get lost as often, either!)

The new-found sense of responsibility comes just in time to deal with new challenges, like finding and keeping a job. The incentive for the job is often to be able to take on still another responsibility: a car! Students sometimes find themselves spending so much time earning the money to pay for and maintain the car and struggling to keep up their grades that they have little time left to drive around. The hazard of letting grades fall at this point is — yes, you guessed it! — losing driving privileges. Most sophomores do eventually learn to juggle all the new demands.

Look! It's a DUDE-iak.
Put your right brain in and shake it all about.
Monie Proctor and Christy Mayfield outshine the juniors.

Receive By Giving

Sharing time and talent with others takes class. One Patriot who contributes to others is Felicia McCroskey. Felicia finds her volunteer work at the Boulevard Terrace Nursing Home to be both fun and rewarding. She especially enjoys visiting with the residents, listening to their problems and sharing their interests. Felicia feels strongly that working with the elderly can enrich not only their lives but also the volunteer's.

A Karate Kid? Better! A Gymnast

Because her father taught gymnastics, Wendy Allsbrook began taking lessons at the tender age of two; her talent was apparent almost immediately. By age nine she began studying at the International Gymnastic Training Center with Coach Gary Woodly and began entering gymnastics competitions. She has even taught gymnastics herself.

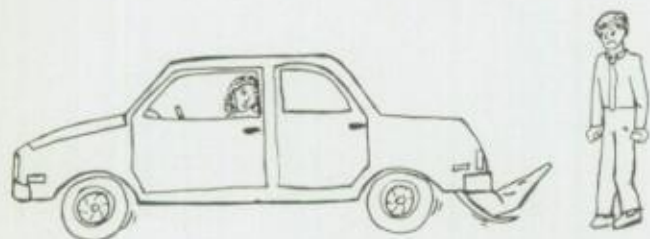

Wendy's competitions have taken her all over Tennessee and Kentucky and even to Colorado. Her schedule is sometimes hectic; the day after she returned from Colorado she travelled to Memphis to compete in the state championship against sixty girls from other area teams. Wendy's best event is the uneven bars, and she feels weakest on the balance beam.

Her expertise led to her opportunity to teach children gymnastics at the YMCA in Nashville and to serve as one of the judges at a Nashville gymnastics meet. She is now teaching an aerobics class at the Nashville Y.

Clear The Road!

Each year most sophomores enter driver's ed hoping to perfect driving skills, unaware of the many "perils" that can occur during the semester. One student (name withheld!) remembers backing over a sign, nearly hitting the fence many times, "killing" several cones, and doing donuts while trying to regain control of the car. Another person remembers a cone being wedged underneath the car for some time before she realized what was causing the terrible noise. Similar incidents happen to many students, so sophomores take heart; most upper-classmen have experienced the same trauma you're going through this year.

Class Of '90

Excitement vibrates through the air: nervous expectation is felt by all. The time is 1:00 p.m. The day is Freshman Orientation.

The dictionary defines orientation as "the action of becoming familiar with or adjusted to." On August 18 the new "Greenies" filled the auditorium seeking familiarity with their new school.

Mr. Swafford welcomed the class of 1990 and informed them of Oakland's rules. Charles Butler discussed the many sports available at OHS. Student body president Cherilyn Ace appeared next, urging them to show more spirit than ever before and encouraging them to participate in the wide range of clubs and other activities. Next, the football cheerleaders bounded to the stage, emanating their Patriot spirit and leading the Freshmen in their first Oakland cheer. Unsure of what to do, the Freshmen — like many new classes before — cheered only halfheartedly.

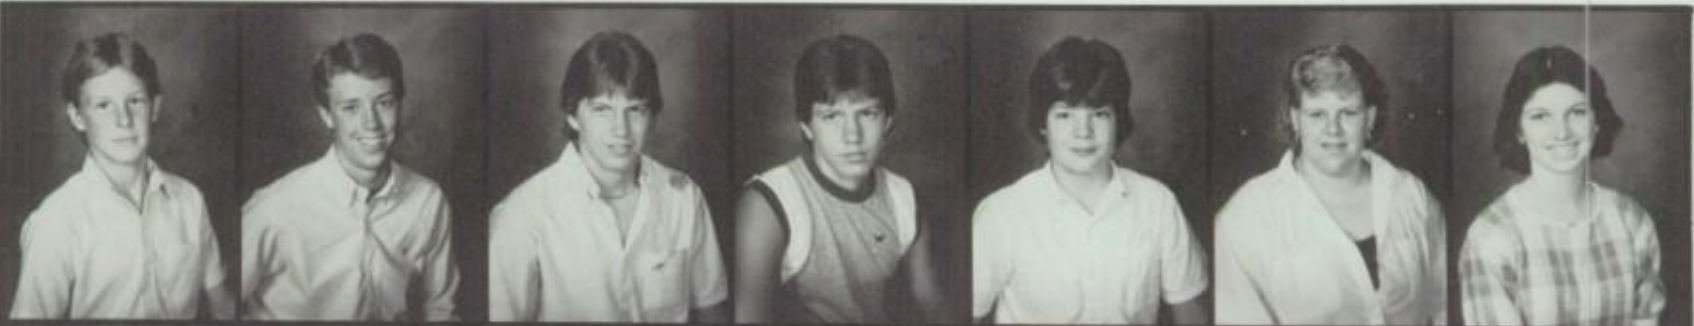

Freshmen then followed their home-room teachers to their respective classrooms where each student received his schedule. The teachers answered questions and distributed information to be taken home.

Confused Freshmen filled the halls trying to find each class. Although they did not become totally "oriented," they did learn many useful things and were on their way to being part of the Big Blue Machine.

Skateboarding: A New Old Fad

"The essence of skateboarding: skill, dexterity, strength, and balance. Weight placed in the wrong place causes a spill. When your bare skin meets the pavement, you are definitely aware of your mistake. Learning from your painful mistake, you grab your board and try again and again and again, pushing yourself to the point of exhaustion. Finally, you meet with success. Adrenaline surges through your body for a brief moment of glory. You are now ready to try another trick." Gale Magee, Freshman Boarder.

Skateboarding is neither easy nor inexpensive. A good skateboard (such as an Avia) can cost anywhere from $100 to $160. The safety equipment (which includes helmet, elbow and knee pads, and anything else deemed necessary for safety) can add another $130 or more to the expense. Furthermore, a board that is used regularly should be replaced every year.

"Boarding" also demands time, practice, determination, and painful injuries as learning aids. An occasional broken arm, finger, or wrist is not uncommon, and bruises and scrapes seem almost mandatory. Such tricks as "popping" the board (raising it off the ground), "ollies", and "bonelesses" are everyday events for skateboarders. Most do agree that these tricks are dangerous because they are part "street-boarding" (any form of skateboarding performed in the street). A tamer version is "ramp-riding," done in port-a-pipes and at any properly equipped backyard. Whatever the variety, though, the dedicated boarders agreed that skateboarding is quickly becoming "all the rage."

Keith McConnell, Gale Magee, and Justin Sinckovic concentrate as they all attempt to reach the top of the ramp without colliding.

Community Theater Offers Opportunity

A community theatre offers the opportunity to work with more experienced actors and actresses and to perform in front of a large group of people. For Lauren Turley and Suzy Carrington, acting in the Murfreesboro Little Theatre is a busy part of life. Both girls have been involved in the theatre for quite some time. Their first performance came two years ago in the play "Hans Christian Anderson," while their most recent appearance was in the famous Broadway musical "Annie." Although both productions were a lot of fun, they required hours of hard work. Most of Lauren and Suzy's spare time was spent in countless hours of practice. Each individual must learn lines, songs, and blocking; costumes must be prepared. For "Annie," six weeks of rehearsal was required for just fourteen performances.

Lauren and Suzy admit that it was very hard to go to school, complete their homework, and get to rehearsal on time, but somehow they managed. All that determination finally paid off, however, as every seat was sold out for each of their nightly performances. The girls were exhausted after all that hard work and all those late nights, but they agree that it was worthwhile. Their experience of acting has allowed them to learn many new skills and to meet some very interesting people. By the end of the weeks of rehearsals and performances, the cast and crew have become like a family, and many lasting friendships have formed. Both girls greatly enjoy the satisfaction they receive from performing and hope to be involved in another production very soon.

Suzy Carrington and Lauren Turley team up with Jamie Farmer (center), another veteran performer.

Rollerskating . . . More Than A Hobby

Not many jobs offer the opportunity to practice your favorite sport, but Don Vaughn enjoys one that does. He works at Skate Center West where he can both develop his own skill and observe skating styles of others. He writes for us on the state of rollerskating in Murfreesboro.

"Rollerskating can be fun for everyone. There are many types, but speed and freestyle skating are the most popular right now.

Speedskating is good exercise as well as fun and exciting. It's fairly simple to learn and to do. If you're fast enough, you can try to compete either in an amateur or a professional race. Professional speedskaters can reach speeds of seventy to eighty miles per hour. Speedskating teams enter events as a team but race in different classes. Teams offer support and can help a skater to do better in his event.

Freestyle skating is hard because of all the tricks there are to learn, such as spins, jumps, heel-walks, and waltzing. Learning the tricks takes time and practice. There is stiff competition among freestyle skaters, and you must have a great deal of skill to even place. Most people who win competitions have been skating for years.

Skating is fun, and I hope you enjoy it as much as I do!"

Skater Don Vaughn demonstrates a middle split.

Class With A Change Of Pace

Every student at Oakland is required to take freshman gym. Although it provides some diversity from the normal "book work" classes, Tom Greever says, "It's just there; it's a class; you have to take it just like anything else." However, because it is a class that lets students release energy, most enjoy it as a welcome break from sitting in a classroom.

Every few weeks gym students face the challenge of learning skills in a different sport. Included in these sports are soccer, football, badminton, softball, and the favorites — volleyball, rugby, basketball, and swimming.

Freshmen freely shared some ideas about gym. Many were to the effect that they would rather spend more time in the day's activity and less in exercises and various other time-consuming activities. On the other hand, Gentry Barnett would like to see the girls do more exercises such as running steps to make the warm-up more difficult. The students seemed to enjoy the sports that could be played co-ed more than those that were separated. They felt that this added to the challenge of the sport. Despite the few dislikes, however, almost all freshmen enjoy their gym class, and some, like Michelle Polk and Justin Middleton, like it even more than the gym class at their previous school.

At times P.E. seems to be an insurmountable obstacle.
Can Yoga relieve the tension of the class?
Kicking a ball, or the person with the ball, can help also.
Did you ever get the feeling that you are making good time but getting nowhere?

Tough Competition

The Beta Club is one of our most active organizations. Sponsored by Mr. Moore and Mrs. Gannon, the club works hard for its annual fundraiser to earn money for the state convention held each year at the War Memorial Auditorium. One of the convention's central events is the talent contest, and OHS has become known as "the school to beat."

Beta Club members begin working on their presentation before Christmas and continue to polish their performance until April. If the entry proves to be the best in the state, the club wins the opportunity to compete at the national convention. Even when the entry does not come in first place at state, however, members are still able to attend the national convention with Mr. Moore and Mrs. Gannon. The money from the fundraiser is used to defray travel expenses. Mr. Moore and Mrs. Gannon have been very successful working with the Beta Club and have led many winning and talented groups to convention.

Key Club

Another very active honor organization at OHS is the Key Club. The requirements of membership are a gpa of 3.0 or better, high moral character, and good citizenship grades. The club has become very active in serving the community.

During the morning and monthly meetings the club plans activities to raise money and to help the community. Such activities include helping with the Jeff Dodson Pancake Breakfast sponsored by the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs. Key Club members sold nearly $500 worth of tickets and worked at the breakfast.

Ladies Only: Women's Chorus

The school year started with a new addition: The Oakland Women's Choir. Sponsor Brenda Dent says the decision to begin the new group reflects student interest; when she auditioned students for a choral group, most of those auditioning were girls.

The group, which contains sixty girls from freshmen through seniors, has performed at the Opryland Hotel and at Murphy Center with the band. In the spring they will perform in the jazz show and will compete in the World Music Festival with women's choirs from other schools.

Miss Dent says that she expects to continue the Women's Choir next year. She enjoys working with the girls and reports that the best aspect of the choir is its sense of comraderie; they feel like one big family of girls.

AP English

Advanced Placement English has been offered to Oakland seniors for the past eight years, and to sophomores and juniors for four years. Interested students submit their NEDT test results, English grades, and teacher recommendations to determine which twenty students will begin the AP experience. The program is designed to prepare students to score well on the Advanced Placement Examination in English Literature and Composition; a high score can help students to exempt some of their college English requirements.

Most students who enter the program as sophomores continue together through their senior year, developing not only an impressive grasp of literature and composition but also an enduring "Ape" comradie.

AP Math

For the first year our math department has offered AP math courses. Mr. Cooper states the advantages of accepting the challenge of these classes. "The honors mathematics classes provide the student who likes math, who plans to major in a technical field in college, or who wants the most out of his secondary education, an opportunity to achieve these goals. Overall, this has been a good first year, and we look forward to continuing to improve the program in future years."

Student response has been equally strong. Many share David Hilbert's reasons for signing up: "I wanted to be better prepared for college courses, and I thought I was ready for more of a challenge."

Ms. Chrisman reviews AP students' records.
From his "bat cave" headquarters, Mr. Cooper projects theorems.

We Wrote The Book...

There are many reasons why students sign up for the yearbook staff. One is that a student has a chance to leave a mark at his school either by writing, taking pictures, or designing pages. Another reason is the curiosity of wanting to know just what goes into making a yearbook. Some may want to join for an easy course, but they're in for a shock! Being on the staff means a lot of hard work and extra hours on weekends. Staff members must have a little more patience and tolerance than normal, but one thing is certain: we, the Spirit '87 Staff, are proud of our school and proud of the Pats!

It's A Big Job And Someone Has To Do It!

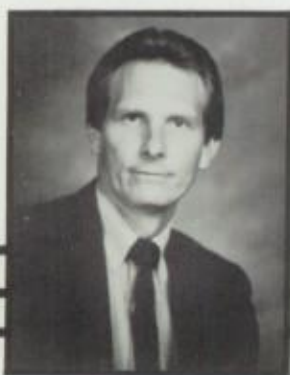

Before a school year ends, the annual staff begins its task of creating another classic best-seller for the coming year. Sacrificing precious summer days, they work on initial designs and contact friends of the school for advertisements. When the new year begins, they carefully start recording the year in pictures and words. Deadlines, late copy, missing and unidentified photos, last-minute design changes — all are challenges of a dedicated, hard-working staff. Each year they attempt to record the brief high school days.

An Experience In Self-Government

American Legion Boys' State is an opportunity for boys in the eleventh grade to put into actual practice the theories of American government. Approximately six hundred boys from every county in Tennessee assemble on the Tennessee Tech campus for one week in June. High school faculties choose outstanding student leaders as delegates. Each delegate is assigned to a county and city, and he becomes a part of a mythical 51st state. During the week, each boy becomes acquainted with the basic laws of the State of Tennessee and the functions and duties of the various government offices.

Volunteer Girls' State is a miniature state patterned after the state of Tennessee. Delegates are girls in the eleventh grade who were selected on the basis of an interest in government and other qualities evident in outstanding school leaders. Girls' State is usually held on the campus of Middle Tennessee State University during the last week in May. Delegates are assigned to one of twelve cities where they elect city, county, and state officials and have an integral part in the experience of governing themselves.

Boys' State Delegates: Pat Meagher, Andy Flipse, and Bill Heath

Girls' State Delegates: Monicia Elrod, Earletha Drew, Joan Collier, Lettie Jemigan, and Cherillyn Ace.

Girls' State Alternates: Amy Cushing, Elizabeth Powell, Renessa Yokley, Kellie Powell, and Kimberli Kelton.

Boys' State Alternates: Bill Tipton, Charles Butler, and Scott Adams.

National Honor Society Of Secondary Schools

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors that a student can obtain. NHS requires that its members have not only good grades but also character, service, and leadership. Members are chosen at the end of the junior year by the faculty. NHS is the only organization at Oakland that has an initiation ceremony which allows students to be honored for their scholastic abilities. Each new member carries a candle representing the characteristics for which he was chosen.

NHS activities include an annual picnic held at Cedars of Lebanon and running the Homecoming Pepsi Booth. This year's proceeds went to the Jeff Dodson Fund to help pay for medical bills.

MOST OUTSTANDING

Cherillyn Ace

Pat Meagher

Cherillyn will attend MTSU for two years and then to transfer to another college to major in Health Administration. She loves softball, works as a physical therapist, tutors, and is striving to bring about The Dry Dock teen club.

Pat will attend college to prepare for a career in either medicine or aviation. He is also considering coaching. His pastimes include football, baseball, fishing, and hunting. Pat enjoys being outdoors at dusk and sunset.

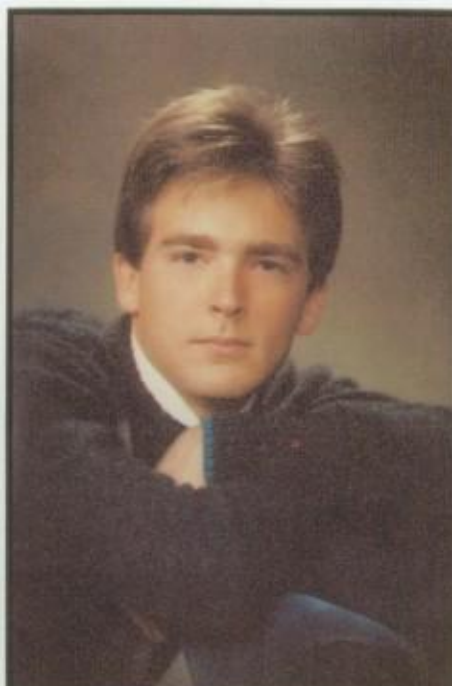

MOST INTELLECTUAL

Monicia Elrod

Scott Adams

Though music will remain an important part of Monicia's life, she intends to earn a doctorate degree and pursue a career in scientific research. She enjoys band, chamber singers, horseback riding, reading, and fantasy games.

Scott plans to study some aspect of engineering which he may incorporate with his interest in medicine and biology — possibly bio-engineering. Scott is interested in boating and water skiing.

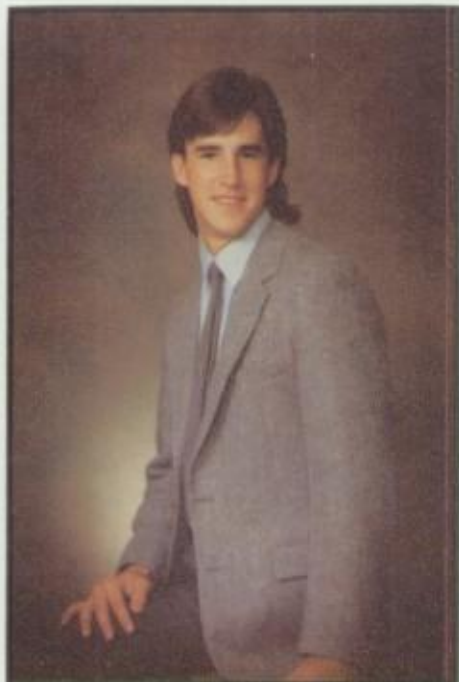

BEST LOOKING

Sandra Lewis

T.J. Hansen

Sandra plans to attend Transylvania University to major in English and minor in business administration. She wants to write children's novels. She enjoys the Student Council, CA, swimming, biking, and being outdoors.

T.J. is planning to attend either MTSU or the University of Tennessee. Though he claims one of his favorite activities is correcting worksheets, he spends his spare time with music, painting, and frisbee golf.

WITTIEST

Kristi Webb

Terence Johnson

Kristi has the same dilemma as many other seniors: trying to decide her future. She does have some firm plans: "I plan to go to college then get out of college." She enjoys going to aerobics, biking, and having fun.

Terence's plans for the future are to attend college where he intends to earn a degree in psychology. He is interested in student government and enjoys all sports, but his favorite is football.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

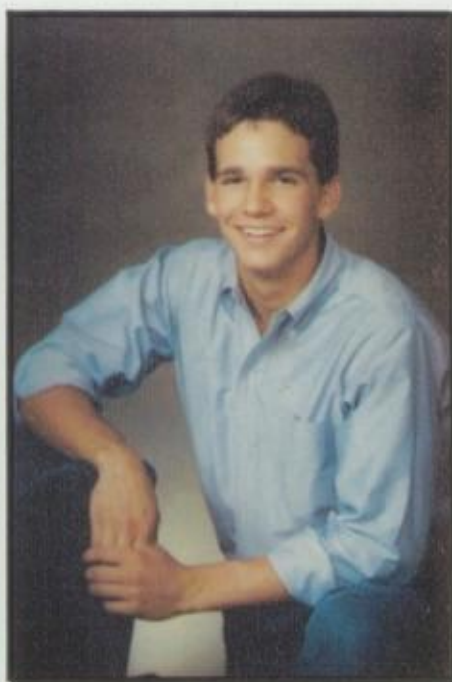

Joan Collier

Joan plans to attend a four-year college where she will decide on a career. Joan studies dance and is involved in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes organization and her church youth group.

Charles Butler

Charles aspires to become either an astronaut or a doctor after attending college. He is active in varsity football, enjoys water skiing at Center Hill Lake, plays basketball in his church league, and also plays tennis.

MOST TALENTED

Kelly Brewer

Kelly's career choices include biochemical research, acoustical engineering, and the performing arts. She has studied ballet and jazz for 13 years and takes private voice lessons. She also devotes much time to cheerleading.

Russell Hugle

Russell will be attending an out-of-state college, playing football, and preparing for a career in professional football. His favorite activities include lifting weights, running, driving fast cars, and being with ladies.

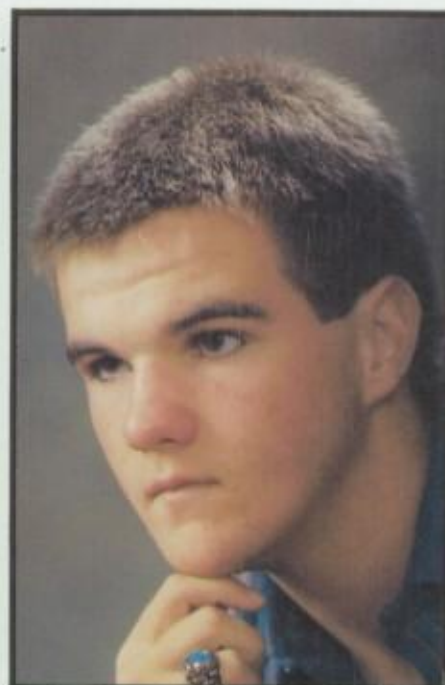

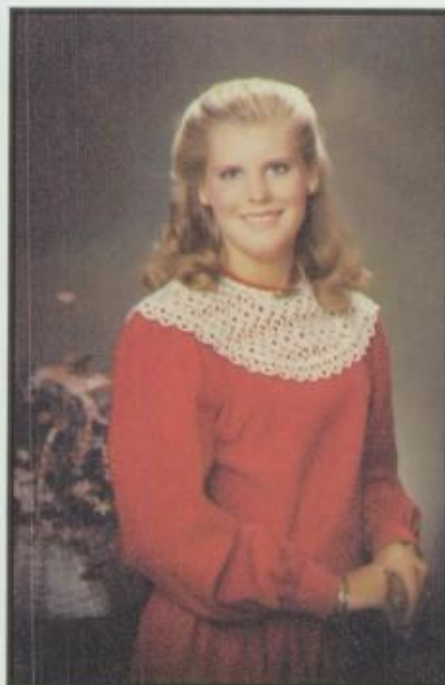

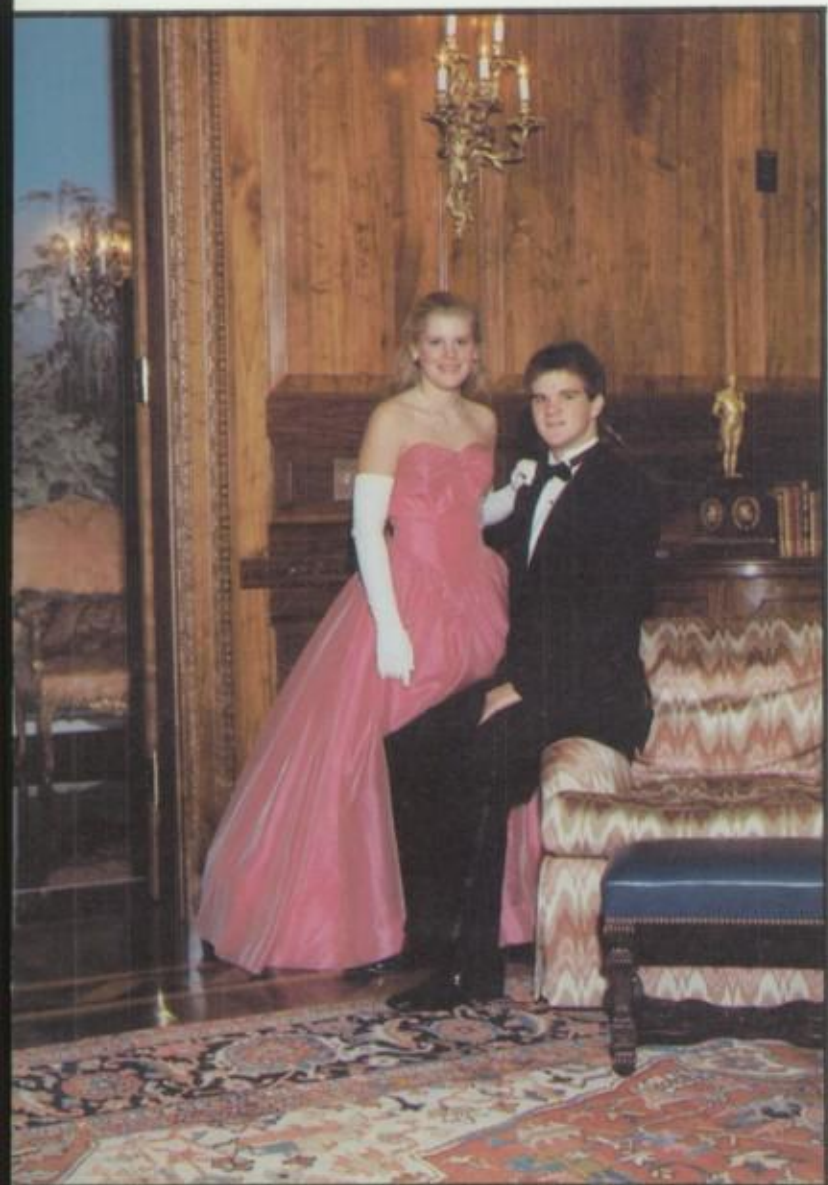

MOST PATRIOTIC

Lendell
Porterfield

Lettie Jernigan

Working with the student council, cheerleading, participating in FCA, and playing with her dog Muffy are several of Lettie's pastimes. After graduation she plans to attend either Auburn or SMU to major in physical therapy.

Lendell plans to attend college where he expects to major in engineering. He says his favorite subjects are any math classes with Mr. Cooper. Lendell enjoys playing the drums at least one or two hours a day.

MOST CONGENIAL

Lenese Holder

David Riggs

Being with people, working, and shopping are Lenese's favorite pastimes. Her favorite subjects are Health Occupations and VOE. She plans to attend college to study either nursing or medical business.

David's plans for the future are to attend a local college and play football. Going out with friends, working, and playing football are a few of his pastimes. His favorite subjects include math and agriculture.

Football Squad

Before the football cheerleaders perform their first jumps for us, they have already worked countless hours. Beginning in June the squad must awaken early each morning to practice perfecting the cheers and chants that will be judged at camp. Each cheer is repeated until all motions are precise and accurate and the timing is synchronized.

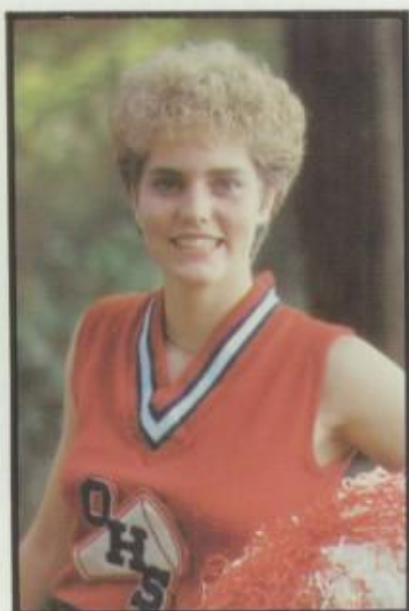

This past summer the football cheerleading squad attended the NCA camp at Sewanee, Tennessee. In each evening's judging they received a blue ribbon for every performance! They were also awarded a spirit stick each night for displaying great spirit and team work. At the close of camp, the Oakland squad was chosen as one of the four best squads and received a nomination for the Award of Excellence.

Jim Francis — Sponsor

The basketball cheerleaders, like the football cheerleaders, spend most of their spare time perfecting their routines, chants, and cheers. Contrary to popular belief, perfection does not come automatically with selection to the squad. Untold hours must be invested by each girl to achieve her desired level of performance.

During the summer our hardworking girls attended a cheerleading camp at MTSU. While there, they won a spirit stick every night and obtained the treasured Key to Spirit award.

To promote spirit here at school the cheerleaders decorate the basketball players' lockers and fill them with surprises from their "secret cheerleaders."

SUMMER WORKOUTS SURE PAY OFF

What does the last month of summer vacation mean? For our dedicated football coaches and players it means PRACTICE. Conditioning practices begin at 8 a.m. at the Oakland practice field. The coaches have the players run through many drills and courses. All players run sprints to improve their speed. Most players lift weights so they can overpower the opposing team. When morning practice ends at 10:30, our exhausted team must rest for their final practice of the day. The 3 p.m. practice which is mandatory for all players is dedicated to perfecting offensive and defensive teams.

This summer our football team participated in a three-way scrimmage. They played Anderson County, Cleveland, and Oak Ridge. We were victorious in two of the games, and the close third game ended in a tie.

Our whole school shares in the rewards for the team's integrity, spirit, and hard work by enjoying the excitement of another hard-fought season.

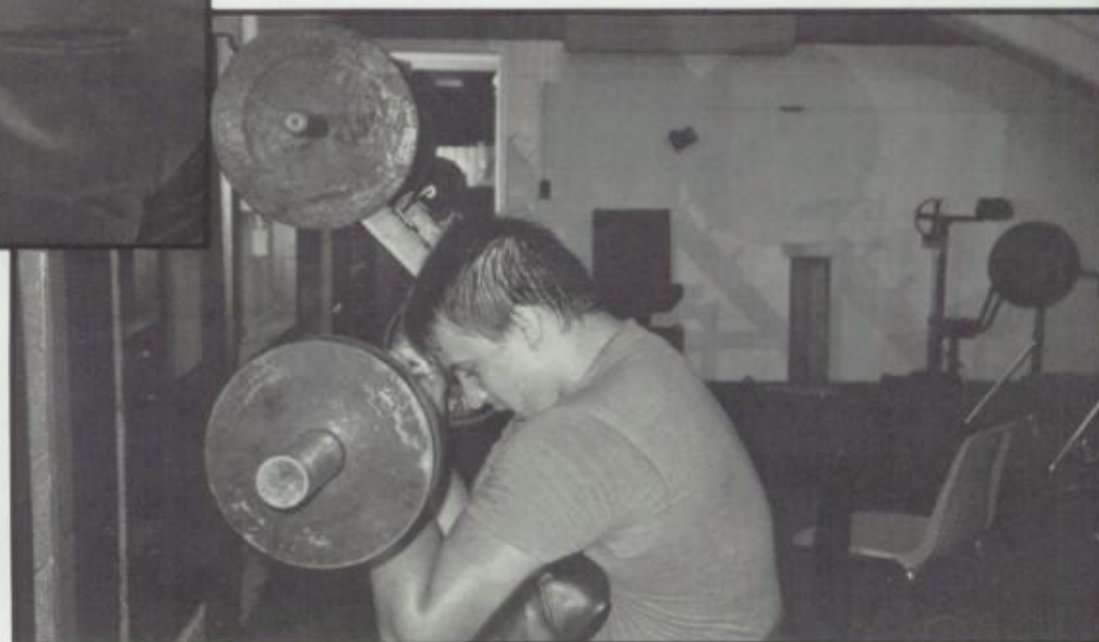

Coach Alsup and the team develop strategies at summer practice.

The Patriots Push Toward A Promising Start

The Patriots topped the Hendersonville Commandos 21-18 in the season opener. In the first quarter Kelvin Martin, aided by Pat Meagher's powerful arm, dove into the end zone. Brian Fitzhugh added the P.A.T.

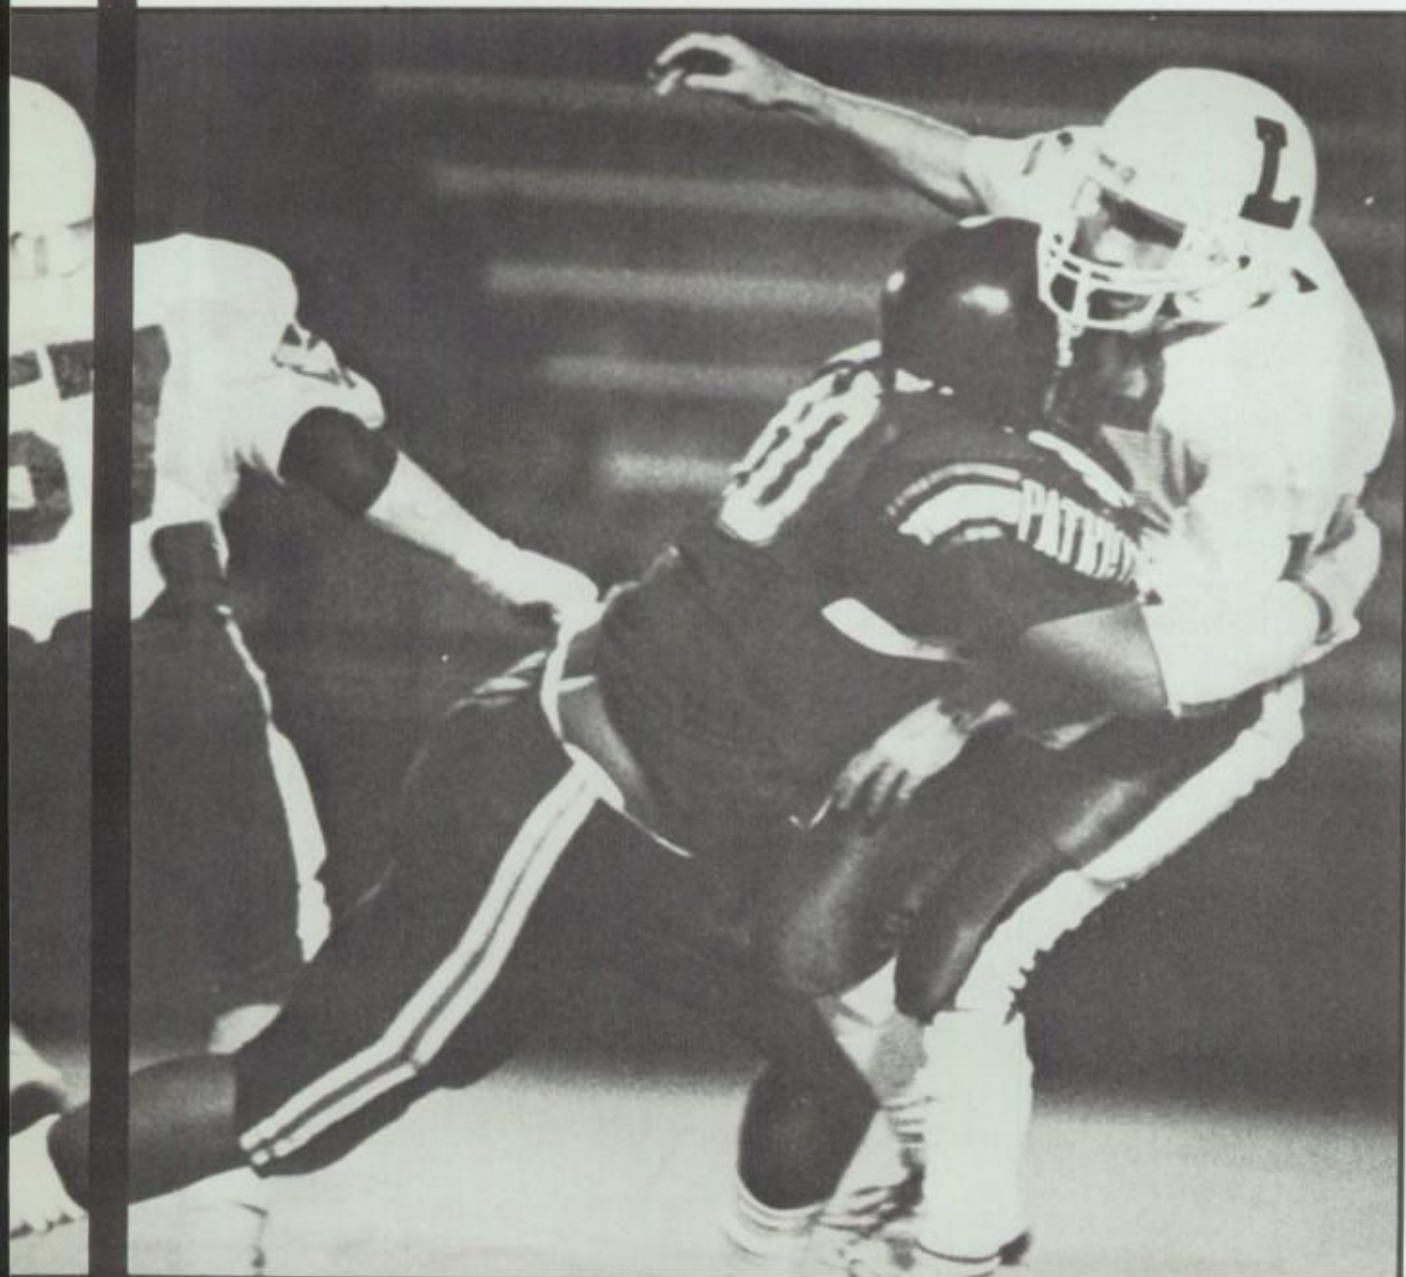

Russell Hugle scored in the second half with a 71-yard run, and Fitzhugh again added the extra point to secure the Pats' lead. Buck Patterson later recovered an onside kick to ensure the victory. The team's outstanding play established momentum for a great season.

The following Friday brought a big day for Coach Alsup: the birth of his son and a victory over the Sparta Warriors! In the first half Russell Hugle raced 43 yards to set up a 1-yard TD. Fullback Kelvin Martin charged for the touchdown with Manly Thweatt tacking on the point after for a 7-6 lead.

Early in the fourth period Meagher completed a 26-yard pass to Martin, placing the ball at the Sparta 20. Meagher later crashed in for the TD from ten yards out. Thweatt again kicked the conversion for a 14-6 advantage. Our defense was extremely tough, stopping the Warriors from getting the two-point conversion after their TD, leaving the score at a winning 14-12. The victorious Pats awarded Coach Alsup the ball.

Patriots Open With Style

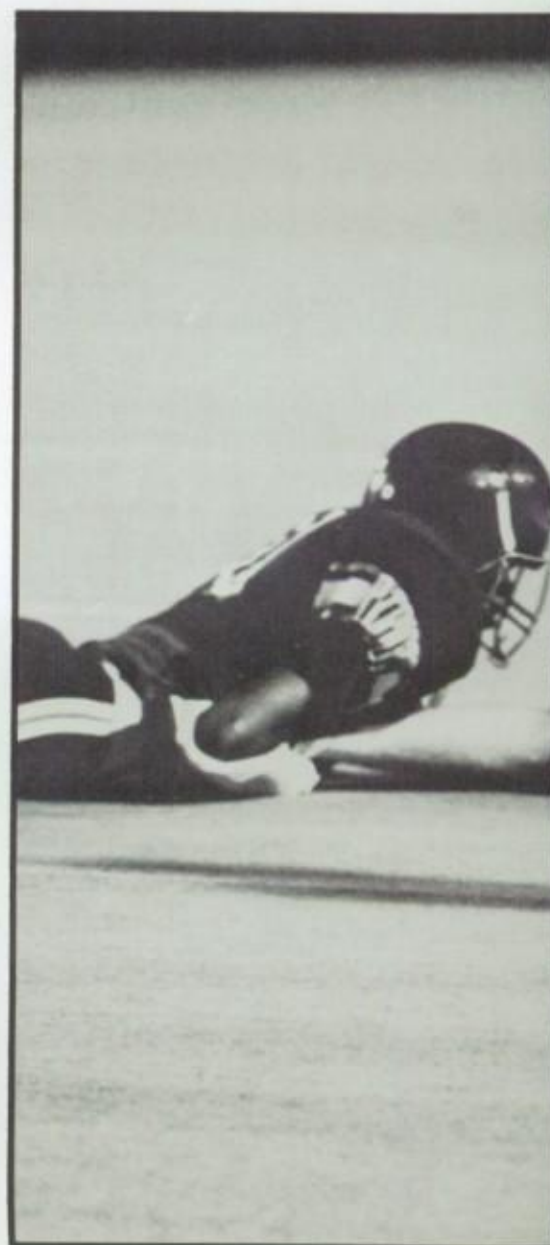

Although the Gallatin game was lost 14-12, the Pats played their most spectacular game. David Riggs, John Mifflin, and Danny Turner led the defense, holding the Green Wave to only 94 yards, while Pat Meagher completed 5 of 11 passes for 108 yards and a touchdown. Russell Hugle rushed for 170 yards on 23 carries. Unfortunately Gallatin managed to capitalize on our few key mistakes.

The next Friday the Pats dealt the Cookeville Cavaliers their first loss. The Big Blue Machine accumulated 360 yards in the first half. The first score came on a spectacular pass from Pat Meagher to Russell Hugle. Hugle later threw a pass to Les Newman for a 62-yard touchdown. A 20-20 tie led to overtime in which the defense stopped a Cav score attempt, managed some key blocks, and scored for a 27-20 win.

Stephen McAdoo can't believe what he sees.

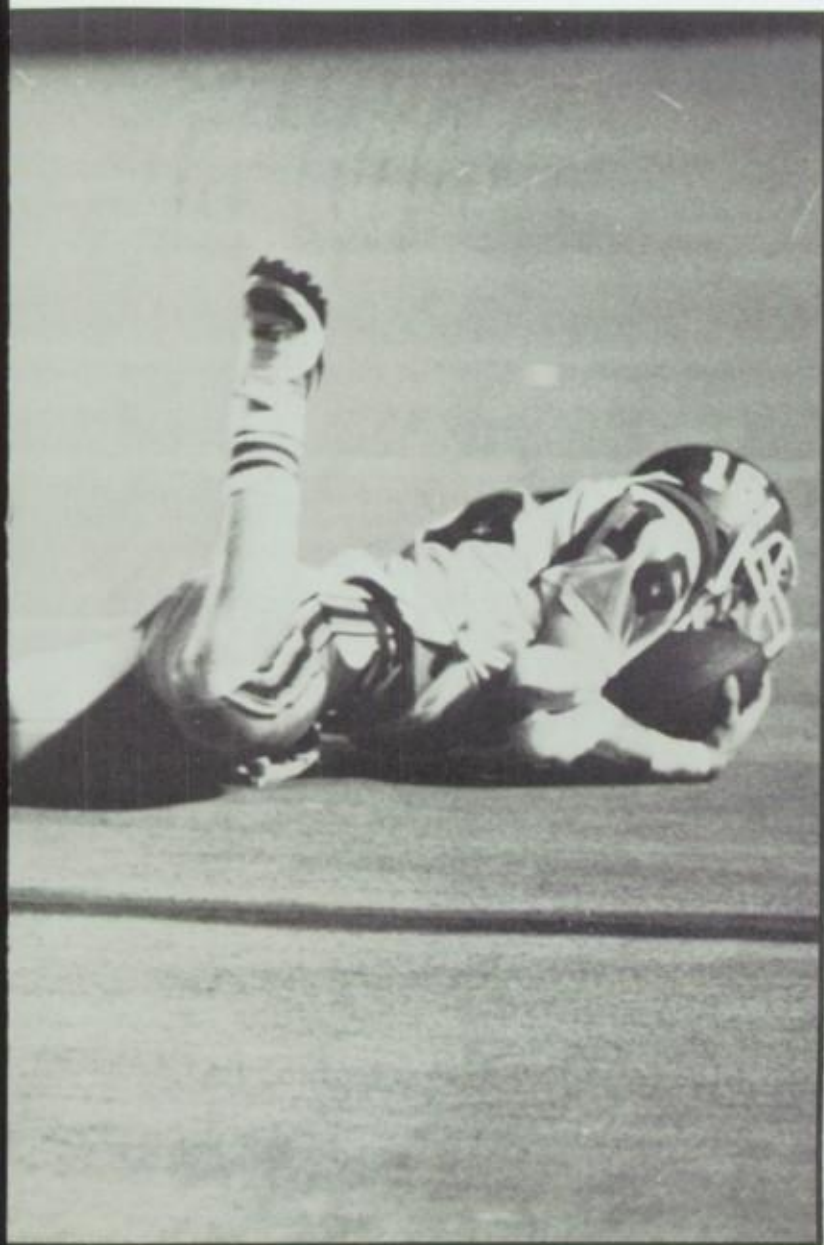

The defense opens up yet another hole for Russell Hugle.

Patriots Toppled Suffer First Loss

In the second quarter of the Chattanooga McCallie game, Russell Hugle charged for an 86-yard touchdown run. Brian Fitzhugh added the P.A.T. for a 7-0 lead. Buck Patterson and David Riggs stopped a McCallie attempt on the Oakland 6. Pat Meagher's bullet to Robert Turner and Fitzhugh's second P.A.T. produced the 14-0 victory.

The Patriots celebrated their homecoming by beating Warren County with a 28-8 romp, running their record to 5-1, and remaining unbeaten in the district. The Hugle brothers contributed to the 388 yards rushing with Russell gaining 190 yards on 22 carries and Rendell, a sophomore, covering 72 yards in 6 carries.

Ups & Downs

Lincoln Co.'s Laurel

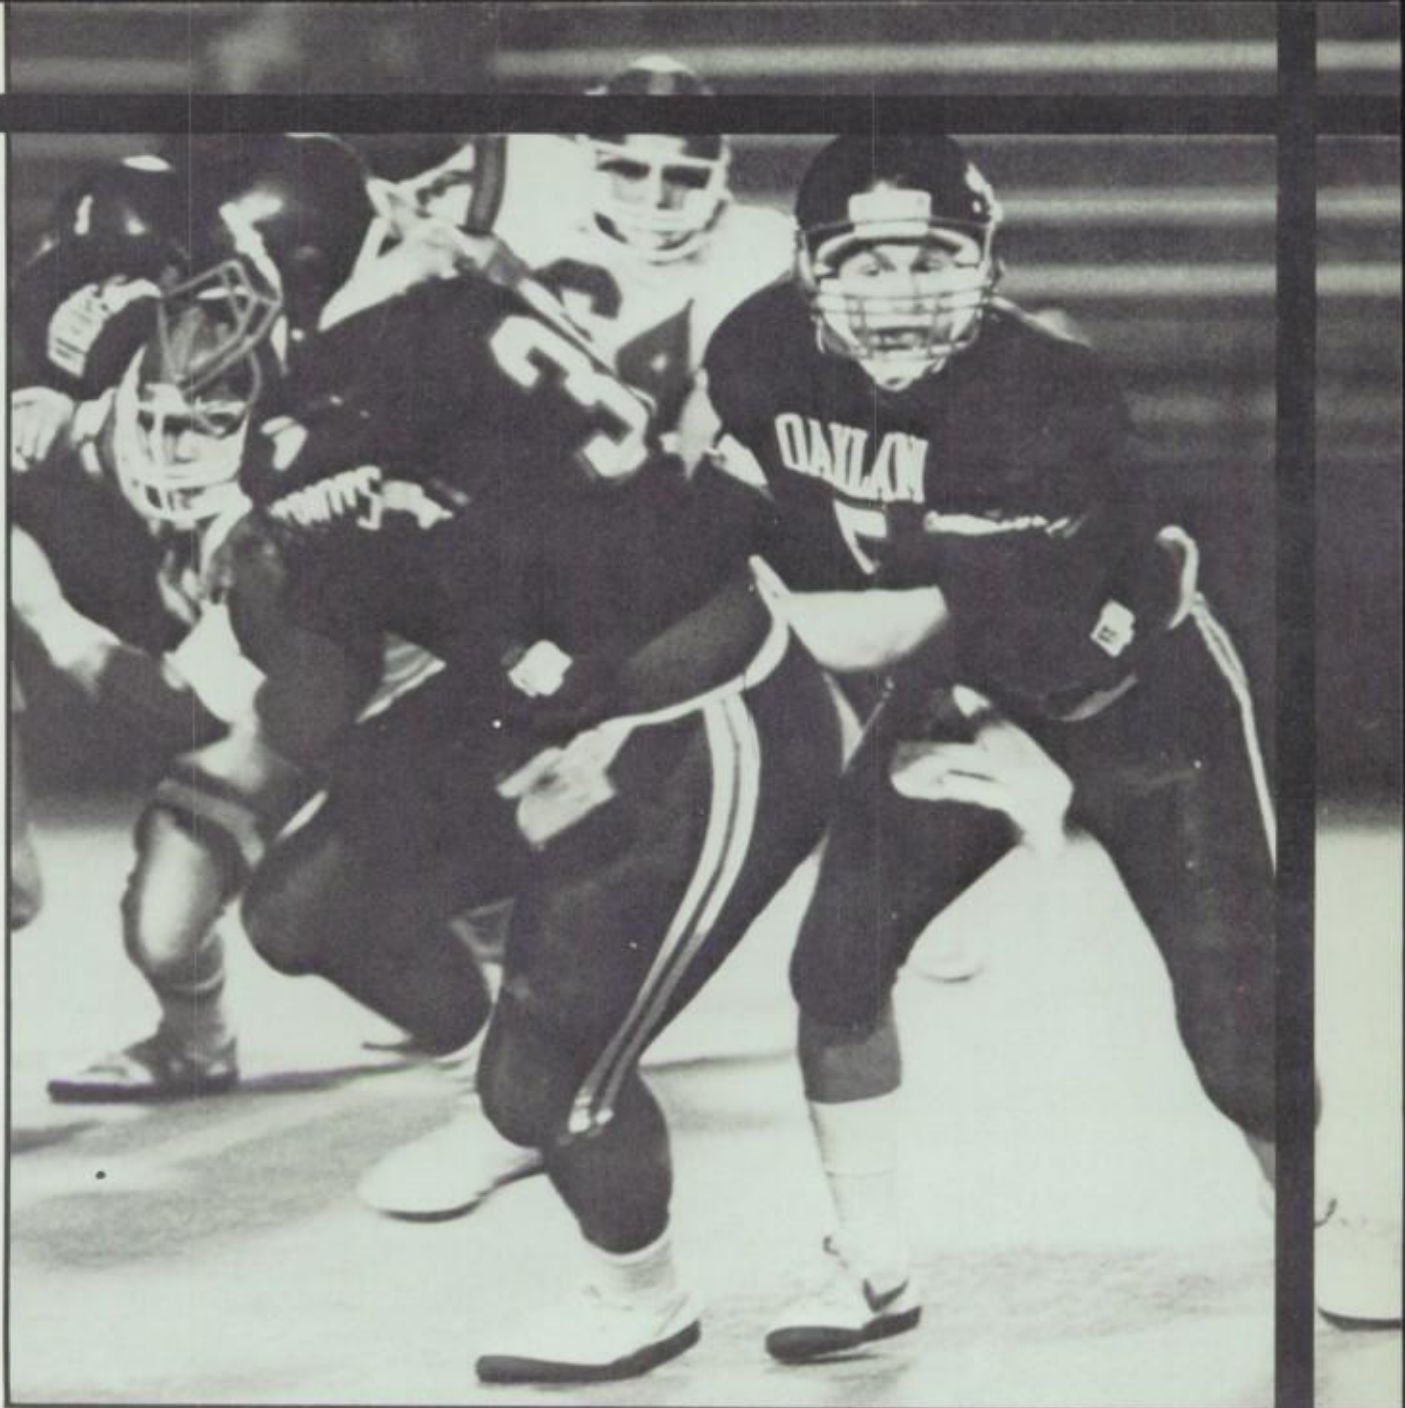

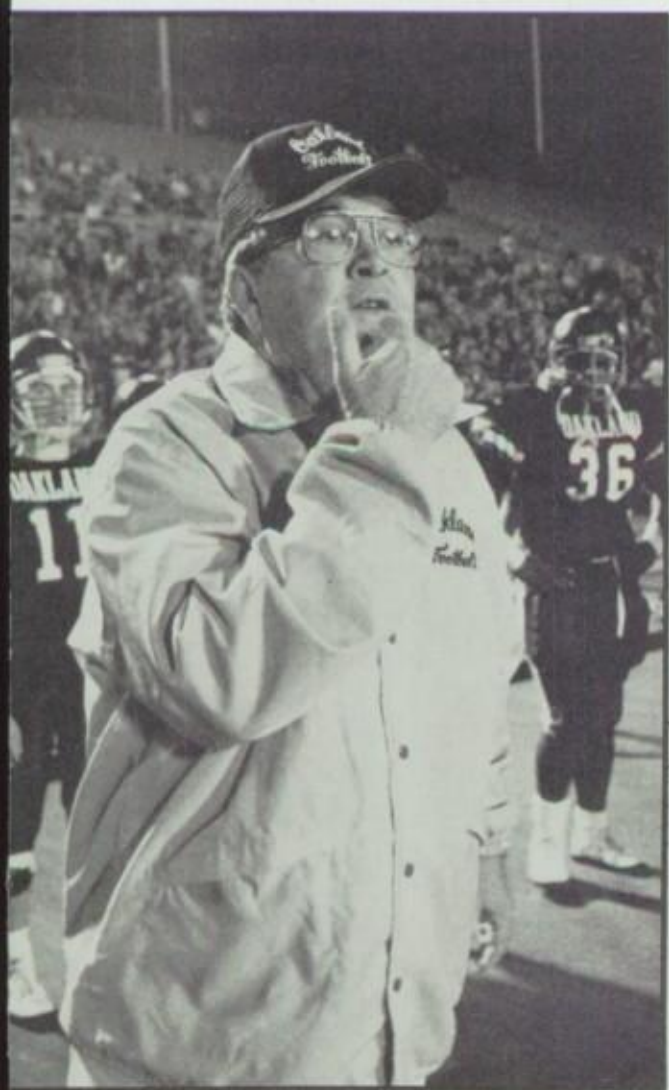

Oakland met a powerful Lincoln County in search of our sixth victory, but the Falcons grabbed a 14-0 lead in the first three periods. Pat Meagher's pass to Kevin Christiansen produced our first score. Our next attempt was ended by an endzone tackle for a safety, resulting in the 16-7 loss.

Lebanon's Loss

The next Friday, Russell Hugle's 295 yards, Kelvin Martin's two touchdowns, and Brian Fitzhugh's 41-yard field goal led to the Patriots' 24-20 victory over the Lebanon Blue Devils, placing them in the post-season playoffs. Oakland kept their district record untarnished at 4-0.

*Coach Alsup advises a player.

The Oakland defensive line charges to sack the quarterback. Pat Meagher fakes a hand-off to Kelvin Martin. Coach Hughes signals a play.

Brian Fitzhugh's 40-yard field goal put a brilliant end to an otherwise dull game against Nashville Stratford. Kelvin Martin scored first, taking the ball in from the 31-yard line. After a Warrior score, the game remained tied in a defensive battle. Russell Hugle played a big role in getting Fitzhugh into scoring position for his winning field goal which carried the Pats to their 10-7 victory. Riverdale's mostly successful plan to contain Russell Hugle and Robert Turner's broken ankle combined to produce a disappointing end to the classic rivalry. Though halftime registered a 7-7 tie following Hugle's 57-yard touchdown and Brian Fitzhugh's P.A.T., the Warriors tide-turning second scoring drive established the 14-7 heartbreaker. Hugle's fourth quarter attempt at the 1-yard line was crushed along with Patriot hopes of the district crown.

Les Newman evades a tackle.

Frosh Dedication Shines

Have you ever thought about how dedicated the freshman football team must be? After tryouts are over and the team has been picked, the selected players begin practicing in the stifling August heat twice a day. When school begins each player suffers through the long tiring practices every weekday. But the one practice of the season that is most dreaded is when the freshmen play the Varsity B team. Though the size and experience of these players outweigh that of the freshmen, the underclassmen usually come out alive. All the practices and scrimmages pay off when game time arrives, even though there is little support from the student body. In spite of the odds against them, the freshmen persevere with hopes of achieving Varsity level.

Daniel Riggs and Niles Hughes chase after a scampering Warrior. Chris Ralson prepares to throw a pass while his teammate blocks for him. The frosh team huddles awaiting the next call from incoming players. Don Duplass tackles an offender in a recent game.

Den Duplass gets ready to pounce.

And Shines

The Oakland Patriots freshman football team pulled through a season of 5 victories and 3 losses this year. Although not a perfect record, Coach Bob Woodard was said to be very pleased with his team's performance and their 5-3 slate. The freshmen's strong defense was led by Chris Leming, Dale Hutchins, Chad Wall, Robert Singleton, Brad Muse and Gary Davis. Perry Carney and D.J. Daniels were the leading rushers for the team, while quarterback Chris Ralston seemed to have what it took to lead the Patriots to victory.

The team's five wins during the scheduled season came from Beech, Lebanon, White House, Sycamore, and Warren County. All of these games were won with at least a six point margin, with which the Pats pulled to an easy victory. But along with winning there is also losing. Thurman Francis, Cookeville, and Riverdale tallied the losses against the Oakland freshmen.

Garth Petrelli stretches unsuccessfully while trying to save a bad snap. Perry Carney shows some smooth moves while evading the other team's defense.

Tennis Teams Strive To Rebuild

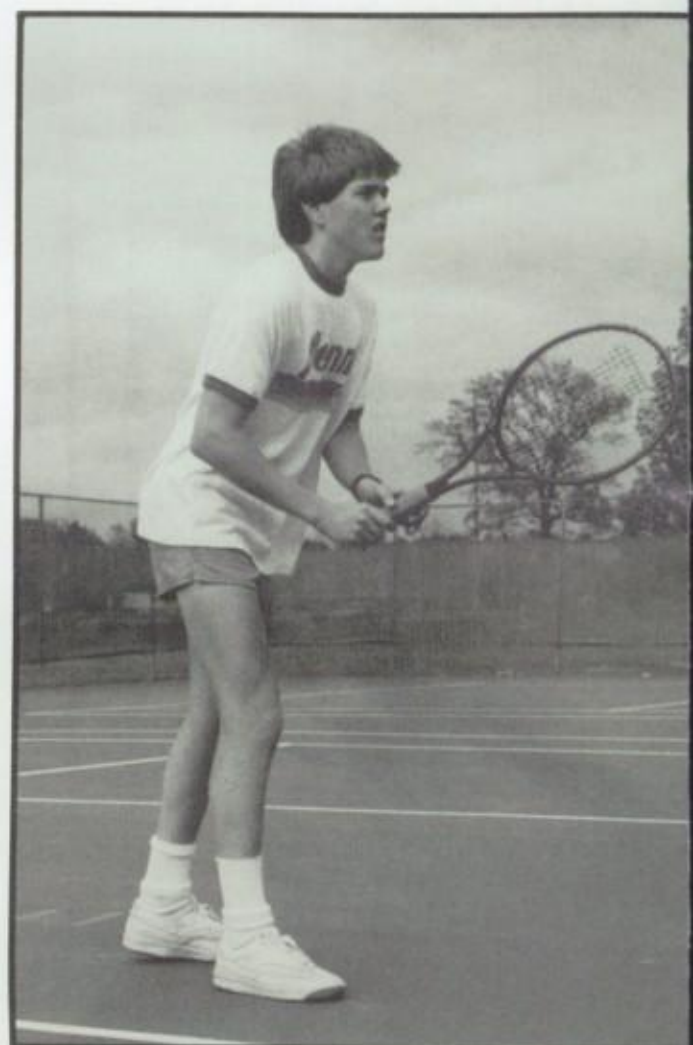

This year's Lady Patriots may be courting disaster having lost three of their players, but Coaches Reeves and Chrisman hope to maintain and improve last year's 7-2 record with the addition of freshman Marsha Reeves who will play in the #3 spot. The strength of this year's team lies in returning courtswomen Julie Kidwell, Beth Morton, Kathy Klika, Elizabeth Powell, and Edie Hobson. The Lady Pats will be defending the district title this year at the Chattanooga Rotary tourney and are hoping to either maintain or improve on last year's strong 7-2 record.

The boys' tennis team also enters the season with the hopes of a repeat performance of last year's play when they went 10-2 against some of the toughest teams in the state. Though the odds for a repeat season may seem low because of the loss of the top three seeded players, Coach Woodard seems to have some aces up his sleeve. Freshman Andrew Adams, who ranked twelfth in the state last year, joins the team, while Rick LaLance will return to his second seed position with a 12-2 record. Key players to keep an eye out for are Nick Paranjape, Scott McDaniel, and Chanthala Phimmase.

This year's goal for both teams is to uphold the titles earned by each in the district tourney last year and to place well in the Chattanooga Rotary Tournament.

High Hopes

Highlights of the Lady Pats' season were their Homecoming victory over the Cookeville Cavs and their two big wins over Warren County. Team leaders include Thelisa Wade, Sharrona Alexander, Kathy Klika, Cheney McCullough, and Suzanne Howse with strong assistance from Virginia Mosby, Kristi Reinhardt, Stephanie Brown, Teresa Curray, and Martha Newsom. Since only one starter, Thelisa Wade, is graduating this year, new Head Coach Eakes and Assistant Coach Hockenberry look to next season to be a strong one.

Old Traditions New Beginnings

Oakland faced a very difficult season this year. Apart from the fact they would have to recruit players to fill positions vacated by last year's seniors, they were going to do so without the guidance of Dickie Thomas, who had led them to the state playoffs and the runner-up position as well as numerous district titles.

For years the Patriots have dominated play in District 7-AAA. However, this year proved to be different. The Patriots got off to a bad start as the boys were defeated in double overtime by a pesky Smyrna squad. This frustrating loss led to a four game losing streak to open the season. But the team soon rebounded to win their first game against Dickson County with a last second desperation shot from half court by Marcus Rhodes. The Pats next game was at rival Riverdale, where the Pats suffered a heart-breaking loss to the talented Warrior squad. "The Blue", fueled by this loss, proceeded to steadily improve. They romped the Sparta Warriors and lost by only one point to a crafty Brentwood team before beating the Warren County Pioneers. This led the Patriots into the Middle Tennessee Invitational Tournament. The Pats again suffered losses as they were eliminated by Gallatin.

New coaches Gary Johnson and Randy King continue the Patriot tradition.

And Memories

The Pats returned from Christmas vacation with hopes of winning. After losing yet another to a domineering Lincoln County, the basketball team finally started to win. Among those beaten were Lebanon, Brentwood, and number 1 ranked Riverdale in succession. The victory over Riverdale, which obliterated their number 1 state rank as well as their pride, boosted spirit for the team. Riverdale Coach Thomas Hopkins was quoted as saying, "They beat us just about every way you can beat a team — they outshot us, outdefensed us, hit more free throws, got the big rebound — they just deserved to win." The Patriots were starting to show their "stuff." Though they lost the next few games, vengeance was gained as they defeated Smyrna in a close scoring game.

Royal Gentry

A New Tradition

Basketball Homecoming is a fairly new idea at OHS. Instead of the traditional crowning of a queen at halftime, Cherillyn Ace crowned the 1986-1987 Homecoming KING! The student body chooses court representatives from each class and then votes for their favorite to fill the position of king. This type of voting was quite new for the freshman class, but they caught on quickly by choosing Tom Greever as their representative. The sophomores and juniors selected old reliables by returning last year's choices, Pat Garrett and Dale Davenport, to this year's Homecoming court. The five seniors — Charles Butler, Chris Chaffin, T.J. Hansen, Pat Meagher, and Robert Turner — competed for the top honor.

During the girls' game, which was won by OHS Lady Pats, the royalty sat in the stands with friends adding to their nervousness by laughing about all the things that could go wrong during the presentation. However, during halftime of the boys' game, the royalty of the night made their way gracefully across the floor as they were announced.

After all seniors had been introduced, the king was announced: Charles Butler. Another Patriot Homecoming became complete.

Freshmen Teams Learn How The Ball Bounces

"The freshman girls basketball team had a very exciting and rewarding season," said Coach Hockenberry. They completed the year with a record of 8-2 and advanced to the district finals against the Thurman Francis Rams. They handed the Rams a crippling defeat of 35-20 to become the District 12 AAA champions. Other season highlights include out-scoring Riverdale by almost two to one and the comeback against Shelbyville's nineteen point lead early in the game.

Debbie Elliot and Marsha Reeves led the team in scoring; other high contributors include JoAnn Elliot, Tammy Eaton, Kristin Hillman, Angel Whaley, Jenny Davenport, and Consuelo McClellan. Since the squad played with confidence, determination, and hustle, great performances are expected from these girls next year.

Team Members: Jenny Davenport, Valerie Upchurch, Christy Snyder, Kristin Hillman, JoAnn Elliott, Chandra Watkins, Manager Wendy Mahaffey, Angel Whaley, Debbie Elliott, Sheila Green, Marsha Reeves, Consuelo McClellan, Tammy Eaton, Manager Yrhonda Covington

Even though the boy's freshman basketball team did not have the best of seasons, their determination and diligence helped them cope with changes of a new team and a new coach, Gary Johnson. With each encounter the players acquired more experience and discovered each individual's strengths and weaknesses. After these weak points had been revealed, Johnson worked with the players to improve these faults for playing on the varsity level. The fundamentals of the sport were also greatly stressed for the inexperienced team members. One positive fact for the future of the varsity team was the large size of the freshmen. The team proved itself in the last tournament game against Riverdale's freshmen. Though they fell short of the Warrior's score by a mere one point, Johnson stated that this game was definitely the best game they had played overall.

Sport Of Strength And Skill

The Oakland wrestling team fared well with six wins, three losses, and one tie in their conference. Because of the loss of several players, four to five matches had to be forfeited at each meet. The team's strength was proven at the first tournament in Springfield when they placed fifth out of fifteen. Shawn Layne placed second in his weight class, Trip Meredith also received second in his, while Dedrick Gaines finished fourth. In a second tourney at Battle Ground Academy, the team came in tenth of sixteen with Trip Meredith placing fourth in his class. At Hillwood, the year's last tournament, Trip Meredith ranked first in his class while Jon Levi took home second place in his class.

The leading wrestlers this year were senior John Heath in the weight class of 145, junior Trip Meredith in the 155 weight class, and sophomore Jon Levi as a heavy weight. Our wrestler's prowess certainly merits Patriot support for this sport of skill and strength.

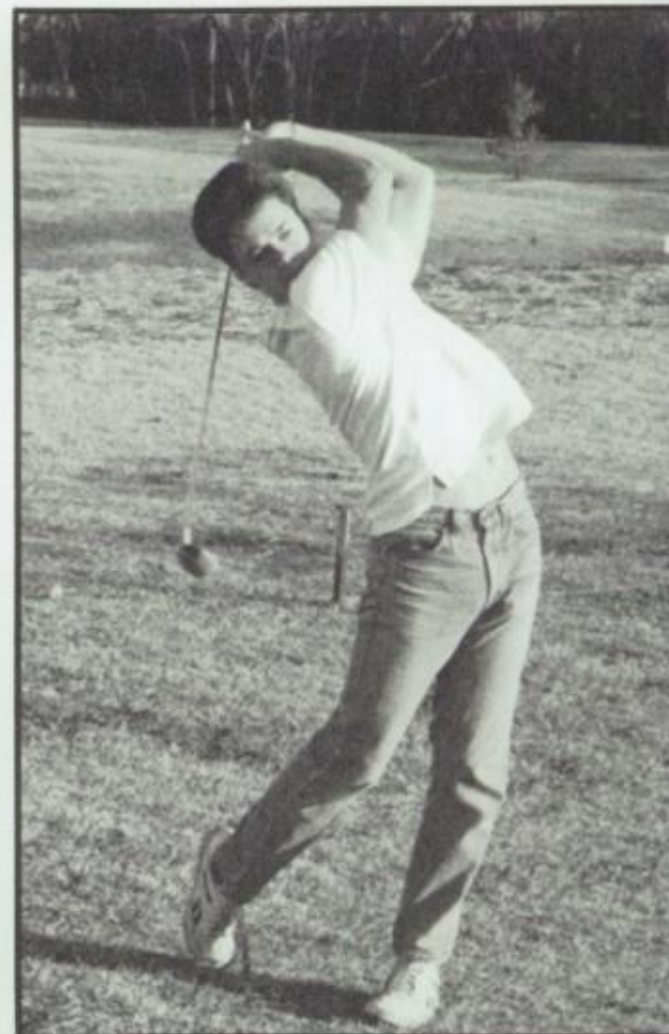

Patriots Practice To Beat Par Putters Collectively Win

Although every golfer is responsible for his own game, golfing still remains a group sport. The individual scores from the eighteen holes of play are combined to determine whether the team wins or loses. Golfing, however, isn't as easy as it seems. It requires a great amount of patience and dedication as students train individually and at their own convenience. Most practice three to four times a week at either Stones River Country Club or Old Fort Park. One round per day is usually enough to keep the players "up to par." Practice especially paid off for Mark Bacurin, named most improved player, and for Ben Simmons, most valuable player for the year.

The team members usually engage in twelve to fifteen games per season which extends from the beginning of the school year to the end of October. Opposing teams include Warren County, Tullahoma, Smyrna, Shelbyville, and Riverdale. Though the team will lose a few seniors this year, two juniors who are acclaimed as excellent players, Ben Simmons and Pat Bordash, will be returning to lead next year's golfers.

Aqua Patriots

This year, the swim team competed against such teams as St. Bernard, MBA, Franklin, and St. Cecilia. Our swimmers were disadvantaged since the pool was undergoing major renovation and they were unable to practice until December.

Once practices did begin, they were rigorous. Many people believe swimming is easy, but it demands more energy and movement than any other sport. Swimmers practice three mornings a week and every afternoon. They must achieve cutoff times during dual and conference races to qualify for the state meet. Several Patriots have qualified in one or more events. Leading male swimmer include Jeff Pond, John Kenney, Tad Scott, Mike Evans, and Mike Haller. Female pace-setters are Cammi McBride, Caprice Craig, Jenny Sullivan, Janeen Haller, and Shannon Taylor.

Team members: C. McBride, C. Craig, M. Allen, J. Levi, A. Silvells, S. Bates, J. Pond, K. Patterson, J. Jackson, L. Jernigan, J. Kenny, T. Batey, S. Taylor, M. Rogers, C. Clutter, R. Barrett, W. Dancing On Another Stage

Though it is the newest Olympic sport, synchronized swimming has been an organized part of Oakland for fourteen years. Mrs. Doris Coady has been the coach since the beginning of this team. This sport combines the grace of gymnastics and dance with swimming. Coordinating their moves with those of the other swimmers and forming certain figures in the water, performers swim to music.

In the past, the team has competed in various meets around the Southeast and usually presents a water show in the spring. Because of pool repair delays, the team was late organizing. Besides the water show, they will also perform for the city recreation center opening this spring.

Team members: Sandra Lewis, Allison Sivells, Lettie Jernigan, Donna Robichaud, Amy Jernigan, Wendy Allsbrook, Monie Proctor, Cammie McBride, Caprice Craig, Christy Rigney, Wendy Warren.

Hard Hitters

Coming off a season record of 9-11 with only three starting players returning for this year's play, the 1986-87 baseball team faced a tough season. It was left up to the five starting seniors to lead the team.

The difficult season included playing every team in the district twice, including rival Riverdale's tough competition, as well as Tullahoma, McGavock, Manchester, and cross-county foe

Smyrna. To prepare, Coach Jolly and Assistant Coach Hockenberry devised a rigorous practice schedule that included at least two hours of daily practice and frequent scrimmages.

Next year's squad should be a strong one, with such players as Dennis Mabry, Brian Lowe, and Kenny Campbell to watch. In the meantime, however, the "Pat Hardballers" are working to uphold the Patriot winning spirit.

Girls Hit Hard, Too! Rise To Success

Fast-pitch softball coaches Dallas Hill and Sheila Alexander are looking forward to another successful year. The 1985-86 season saw the Lady Patriots capturing the regional championship, coming in second in the district AAA contest, making the state quarter finals, and ending the season with a record of fifteen wins and ten losses.

The 1986-87 team remains strong, having lost only two seniors from last year's team. This year's Lady Pats are led by seniors Teresa Curray and Renee Puckett, who are four-year players, and senior Kellie Powell. Cherillyn Ace has suffered an arm injury which keeps her from returning for her fourth year of play. New players Kathy Klika, Lindi Bordine, and Melanie Wade will add extra strength to the team. Last year's pitcher, junior Dena Sumrall, will be returning to the mound.

The team will be playing on its own field this year. They have worked very hard to fund its construction. Since games will now be played here at Oakland, the Lady Pats hope to have the support generated by more spectator interest. Fast-pitch softball is a relatively new sport at Oakland; though this is only its fourth season, the players are already building a classic record.

Alive And Kickin' A Continuing Tradition Of Excellence

The soccer team faces the same dilemma as other Patriot squads: it is rebuilding almost completely. Offensive players Marty Gilbert and Wally Dudiak are the only returning starters.

The season may still be promising since new rules produced an easier district. The squad is a young one, but the players are skillful. Coach Harter looks to Brian Fitzhugh's powerful kicks and control to aid his defense, while David Stone shares goalkeeping duties with Mike Wrenn. Other promising players are Matt Dudiak and Tracy Allen.

Fancy Footwork Soc-her To 'Em

In just its second year, our girls' soccer team has already captured the district title and continued to the state playoffs where they were eventually eliminated. The girls, captained by Andrea Camp and Kristy Graves, surprised their competition with a more refined style of play that incorporated both the square and the triangle passing methods. These techniques forced their opponents to adapt to the change, causing their defensive formation to become muddled. The team achieved a 6-7 record over some of the toughest teams in the state.

Four players — Kristy Graves, Andrea Camp, Shela Moffett, and goalkeeper Celeste Bearden — were honored by being selected for All-Region and All-Midstate Honorable. Mention honors while Graves also received the Amy Wrenn Outstanding Player Award and Regional Player of the year.

Next year's squad should be strong with sophomores Moffett and Bearden and juniors Kerri Patterson and Karen Chew returning to help guide the squad.

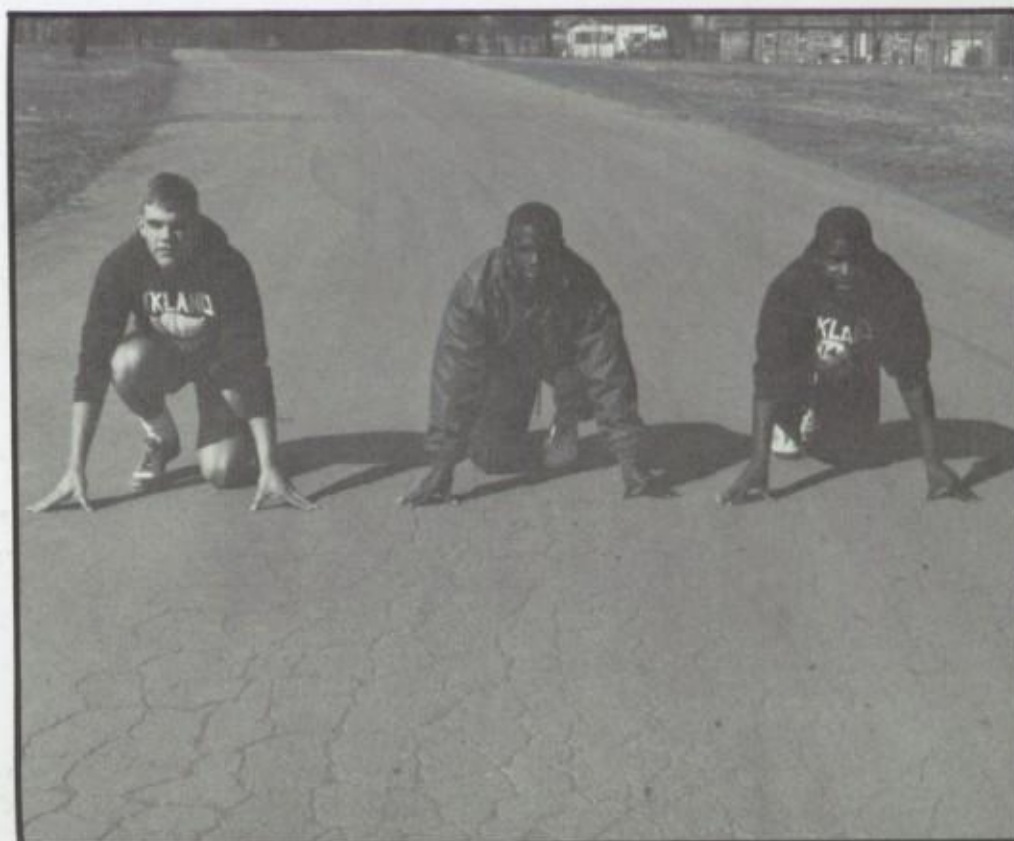

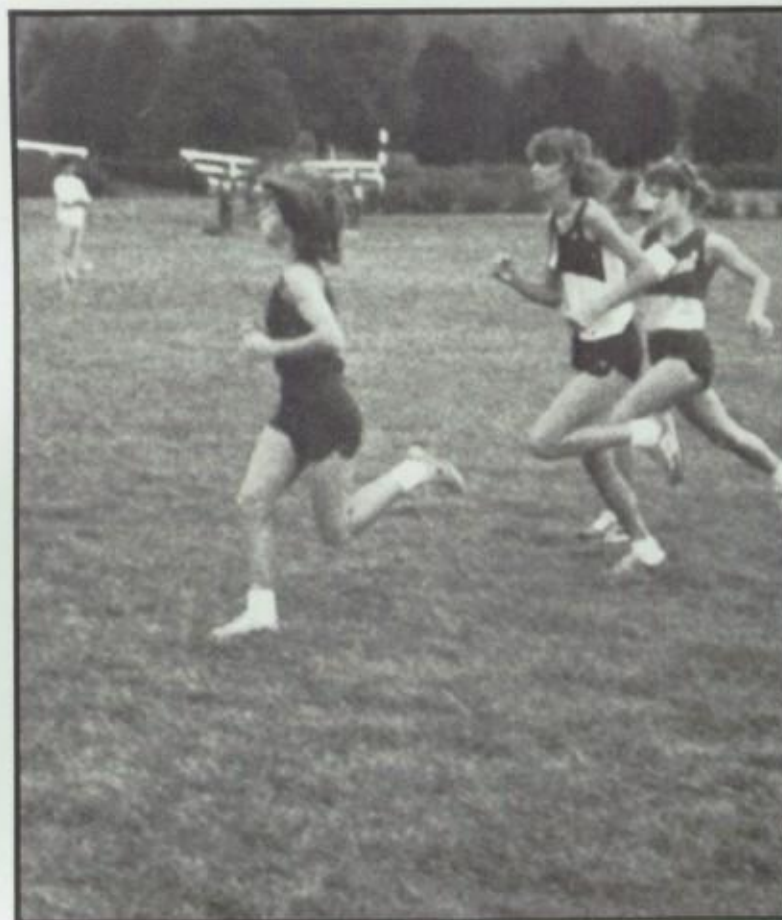

AND, THEY'RE OFF!!

Cross Country is becoming a very popular sport, but few people realize the dedication it takes to excel. Team members must practice an hour and a half each day. During these practices they run both distance and speed runs, often during the warmest hours of the day.

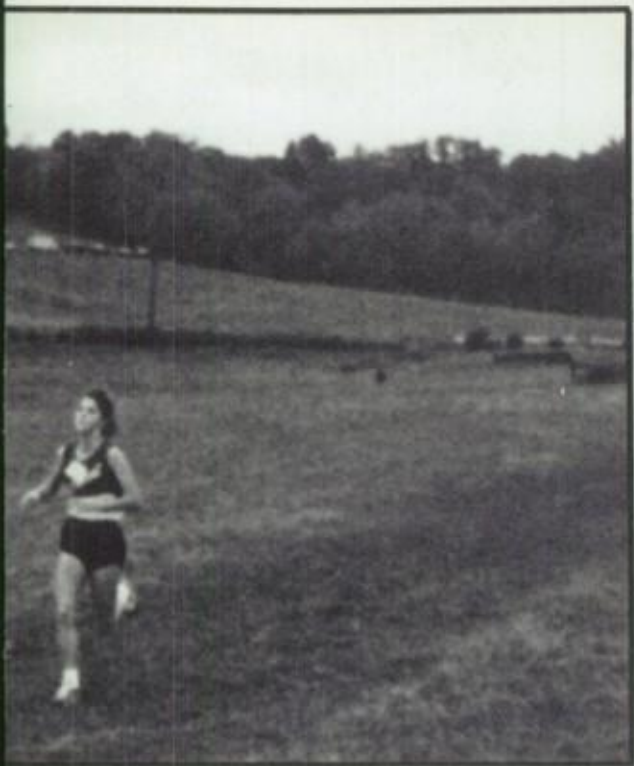

This year's team consists of six members who must face such foes as Gallatin, Tullahoma, Franklin, and Brentwood Academy. The meets, which are held at Vol State, Iroquois Steeplechase, and Arnold Space Center, usually last two and a half hours since both boys and girls run three miles each. This year's MVP was Terri Morris, who earned All-Mid-state Honors in her field.

Team Members: David Hendricks, Todd Hollandsworth, Cary Gensemer, Terri Morris, Alan Young, Mark Smith

Team Members: Terrence Johnson, Rendell Hugle, Graciela White, Russell Hugle, Pete Whitcomb, Buck Patterson, Chris Layne, Jay Hutson

The track team has about twelve members. They practice each weekday afternoon for approximately ninety minutes, running distance and speed intervals on the track. Meets, which consist of several events, are usually held every Saturday during the two month season, but occasionally there are two meets a week. There are races of several different distances, with separate events for girls and boys. Large meets last from 10:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. Though every runner sets his own personal goals, everyone shares a common aspiration: adding his or her name to THE WALL, a list in the gym of state track winners.

We Want Wheels!

What is one of the most exciting events in every student's life? Obtaining the hallowed driver's license! However, many students still find themselves in a dilemma: finding a car to drive. Mom and Dad soon grow weary of the incessant attempts to borrow the car. Time for car shopping!

Students and parents take trips to Richard Smith, Honda-Mazda, and other car dealers hoping to find a good-looking but affordable car. Most students, though, end up looking through the Wheels and Deals. After the car is found, students still have to deal with car payments, often adding the responsibility of a job to the new task of maintaining a car. In spite of the price often paid, the car is an essential element of student life. DRIVE ON!

BOOMTOWN

Murfreesboro . . . the boomtown of middle Tennessee. Once an unimportant rural community, it has thrived to the height of industrial development. With the coming of Nissan Corporation, Murfreesboro has nearly doubled its population and has extended its boundaries. With more people come more cars and houses, leading to new job opportunities. Businesses never before seen in Murfreesboro have flocked in to offer goods and services to meet the needs of our growing population. Murfreesboro is now blessed with Chesney's, Rax, several new or enlarged grocery stores, and a new O'Charleys restaurant will be opening soon. Car dealerships are growing quickly, and three new schools are being built. Yes, Murfreesboro has grown to proportions never before expected. What else can lie in the future for the great city of Murfreesboro?

BAZAAR!

Who wouldn't enjoy spending a day choosing new items to take home? Shopping is a favorite pastime for many students whether they're looking for clothes, cars, tapes, albums, and any other trinkets and accessories involved in their special interests. Shopping for clothes takes top place with many students. For Keith Sanders, Ashley Johnson, and Manly Thweatt, Hickory Hollow offers a variety of stores from which to choose and is a favorite place to spend spare time. Goody's is a suggestion offered by Tracy Hunt as a good place to buy clothes. Other stores popular with students include Pigg & Parson's, Cato's, Casual Male, and Behr's. Most people like to frequent these places with their girlfriend or boyfriend, a parent, or with their friends. It helps to have moral support when parting with hard-earned dollars!

HEY! HAY!

Agri-Business At Oakland High

Did you know that Oakland is teaching agribusiness using its mini-farm complete with pastures, a barn, cows, and hay? Under Mr. Ernie Sullivan's instruction, the agriculture class learns techniques in the care and maintenance of a farm such as caring for animals and managing the land. Although many lessons taught at Oakland cannot be directly applied in the school setting, agriculture students are given the opportunity to feed stock, bushhog, and perform other duties that they have been taught. Many of these students will go on to use their training in their chosen field. Ag students have the advantage of learning the best way — by experience.

BORN with CLASS

Lil' Babe,

Great people are ordinary people with extraordinary amounts of determination.

We're so proud of you and love you so very much.

"Mums" & "Pops"

Dear Bryan,

How proud you have made us during these past 18 years. We've watched you work so very hard, and look how it's paid off. We wish you continued success and greater happiness in your future.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Dear Keith,

As we've watched you grow, we've seen our little boy become a man. We want you to know how very proud we are.

We love you very much,
Mother and Dad

Scott,

Congratulations! We are very proud of you. Have a great senior year.

Love you lots,
Dad, Mom, & Kelly

Dear Greg,

It seems impossible that 12 years have passed since you were our little first grader. We are in awe that you are our son, so special, talented, and a SENIOR! You are our pride and joy! Congratulations! We love you, son, very much.

Mom & Dad

Kathy,

We love you for who you are. We respect you for what you have become. We admire you for what you wish to be. Wherever you go, our hearts go with you. May the peace of the Lord be always with you. Hugs and Kisses, Mom, Grandma, Grandpapa, Ellen, Dawn, Anne, Grandma Marie, MaryAnn, Larry, Jane, Aunt Jeanette, Aunt Joyce, & the Carrolls!

Chris Chaffin,

For all the joy you have given me, our times of laughter and fun, and for having you as my friend is more than I deserve. I just hope your teen years will always be remembered as fun years.

I love you,
Mom (Caroline)

Dear Phonesavanh,

You finally made it — a SENIOR! Now that you're about to graduate, we want you to remember all the good times along the way.

Love,
Aunt & Uncle

Prissy,

"You and me against the world" is about to end, but you can make it! I am so proud of you and all of your accomplishments! Hang in there!

All my love,
Mama

Dear Beth,

My, how you have changed. You have grown from our little girl to a very beautiful young lady. We are proud of you and of your accomplishments. Keep up the good work.

We love you very much,
Mom & Dad

Teresa,

As we have watched you grow and mature through these past 17 years, we have been so proud of you as you have reached for this big accomplishment of being a SENIOR. We love you! Congratulations!

Mom, Dad, & Brothers

Dear Todd,

Congratulations! We love you, and we're very proud of you. Our heartfelt prayer is for your happiness and success in your every endeavor.

Love,
Mom & Lori

Bekki,

May your life be a wonderful experience, filled with all you could possibly hope for and everything that could mean the most to you. Congratulations!

With pride and love,
Mom

Dear Vanessa,

Our adorable little girl has grown into a delightful young lady. Where have all the years gone? We are very proud of you and know there are bigger and better things ahead.

We love you,
Mom and Dad

I'm sure glad your appearance and attitude have changed. I know you don't like it, but you'll always be Daddy's baby.

Love you a bunch,
Jesse Boone

Dear Kelly,
We can't begin to tell you how wonderful it's been watching you grow from "our little girl" into a beautiful, talented young woman.
We love you very much and are so very proud!
Best wishes,
Mom and Dad

"The Racquetball Buff"

Dear Robert,
We want you to know how proud we are of you at this important time in your life. We love you, Porge.
Lots of luck,
Mom and Dad

Moose,
Here you are a Senior; it's hard to believe. Skipping school and signing your late notes. Are you sure you got your English?
We love you,
Mom and Dad

On March the 30th of 68
Came a blessing named Rhonda that was so great.
The years have flown, and how you've grown,
But one thing you should always remember:
A son is a son 'til he takes a wife,
But a daughter is a daughter all of her life.
Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Joyce,
Looks like you made it. Twelve years! You have always been the greatest person we have ever known. Even if you are our daughter, we want you to know you are the greatest!
Love,
Mother and Dad
P.S. Hi, Joyce! Love, Paul

Caprice,
Your Dad and I never had to worry about you. For that reason we were able to enjoy so much more with you. We have such great memories of your school years. Thanks for being a good daughter.
We love you very much,
Mom and Dad

Cheryl,
You finally made it. The big day you have been waiting for is almost here. Good luck throughout your life.
We love you very much,
Mom & Dad

Well, Son, as you remember you had so many problems in '86 we thought we might not see you in a cap and gown in '87. But now we are proud of you as you graduate from Oakland High School.
Love,
Mom & Dad

"Mooseberries,"
Congratulations!!! You did it! We wish only the best for your life ahead. Make the most of every day!
We love you alot!!!
Mom, Dad & Mandy

Michelle,
You have grown from our little "Sweet Pea" into a beautiful young lady. We wish you always the best and remember we're here for you always.
Lots of love and kisses
Mom, Dad, Alison & Heidi

Terry,
Congratulations — you made it to the top, Senior! Such a short time ago you were getting started, and now you're driving to school in a Pontiac 6000. Wow! It needs washing! We hope high school has been fun and hard work. You know how to laugh and make others laugh. We love you and are proud of you. Mother & Dad

Scott,
Well, Son, you finally made it — a senior! We had our doubts! (Ha, Ha!) Not really. I'm very proud of you.
Love,
Your mother

Dear Jerrod,
Congratulations — We are proud of you and your accomplishments. May your success continue. We are rooting for you.
We love you,
Mom, Dad, & Brad

Chris,
You've come a long way since "Captain Kangaroo," and we're very proud of you!
Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Angela,
Congratulations on a job well done! You're a conscientious worker, and I'm proud of you. You've truly been a blessing to me, and I'm honored to have you for a daughter.
Love and best wishes,
Mom

Dear Scott, Melinda, Hats, Kamara, Kristy, Teri, and Shannon,
Congratulations on a great year of hard work. Good luck next year at being Greenies again!
We'll miss you,
The Spirit Staff

Brad,
You finally made it — a senior and about to graduate. We've watched you grow into a very fine young man. We just want you to know how special you are to us. We're so proud of you.
Love,
Mama & Daddy

Congratulations, Son!
You had a tough start in life, but we always knew you would come through a Winner!
We are very proud of you, and we love you very much.
Mom and Dad

Precious,
Congratulations! Baby, you are now a senior. We are very proud of you. We love you very much.
Mom and Dad

Dear Marty,
From a little boy you have grown. And now as you aspire to higher things,
This our best wishes brings.
Our love and support are with you always.
Mom & Dad

Dear Holly,
It didn't take long for you to grow from "little miss" into a grown up young lady. We're very proud of you and your accomplishments!
We love you very much!
Mom and Dad

Dear Lettie,
It's been a joy to watch you grow and mature into a very special Senior. We are so proud of your hard work, enthusiasm, and many accomplishments. Thanks for all the happiness you've brought our way.
We love you,
Mother and Daddy

Dear Steve,
As the years have passed, we have watched you grow from a baby into a senior in high school. You are very special, and we are very proud of you. We wish you success in life because we love you very much.
Mom & Dad

Rabbit,
May your success be of your own picking.

To our Fashion Risk,
Thanks for being you. You've brought us joy and make our lives complete.
We are proud of you,
Mom and Dad
Mercedes — INXS — Bill — Australia — Wayna

Dear Brian,
You finally made it — a SENIOR. We're proud of your success. We love you very much.
Mom & Dad

Son,
What an exciting time for you! It seems like only yesterday you were playing Superman. No matter where you go or what you do, keep Superman stashed in a little corner, and — just for fun — remember him once in a while. We love you so much and are very proud of you.
Mom & Dad

Sweetie,
As we've watched you grow, we've seen our little girl become a beautiful young lady. We are very proud of you.
Love,
Mom, Dad, & Sis

Well, Guys, we made it!
We love you,
Steve and Dawn

Dear Lendell,
We thank God for sharing you with us. You have been a joy.
Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Mo,
The past twelve years may seem to have passed slowly for you, but they have gone quickly for us. We have always been proud of you, but we are especially proud now.
Love,
Mother & Daddy

Dear Jeffrey Lee Pond, the First,
You're first in many more ways than just your name. Always remember Mrs. Gibson and the two-dollar bill for being "The Individual" at school. Thanks for your dedication. Keep reaching for your rainbow. We're proud of you, and we love you very much.
Mom, Dad, Earl, and Rebecca

To: Pig Pen, Gravel Gertie, B.O. Plenty
You have always been a bright ray of sunshine in our lives. We are very proud of you and love you very much.
Mom and Dad
P.S. You cleaned up pretty good!!!

Candi,
We are very lucky God gave us such a wonderful daughter. You have worked hard, and we are very proud of you. We hope all your dreams will always come true.
We love you very much,
Mom & Dad

Kay,
You were such a little thing when you were growing up. Now look at you — all grown up, working, and a Senior. We just want you to know how very proud we are to have you for our kid!
Love,
Mom and Dad

Congratulations on your graduation with the class of '87! We love you.
Mom and Dad

Yolanda,
This is it! You've made it through, and we want you to know that we're so proud of you. You've always walked tall and held your head high. Today you're a LADY, and the sky's the limit! So congratulations!! Now you are free. The future is yours if you want it to be!
Love you, Daddy & Charlene

Dear Tommy,
Smiles, laughter, good times! That's what your life has brought to us. As you graduate and go on with your life, we wish you every happiness and success. Thanks for bringing us so much joy!
We love you very much,
Mom & Dad

Dear Amy,
You look concerned about graduation. Cheer up! The future will be great! We are proud of you.
Love,
Mother & Daddy

Dear Jeff,
Your collection of hats has changed as you have grown. Each one has shown a new side to your personality and your interests. We are very proud of you and the hat you are about to wear as you enter the next phase of your life — wear it well!
We love you! Mom, Dad, and Julie

Runt,
You finally made it. It took twelve long years between this one and the one you will soon receive. Good luck!!
Love,
Daddy

Jarrold,
You may not have grown up to be a cowboy, but you're about to head for "the big range." Congratulations. We're so proud of you.
Love,
Mom & Dad

Donna,
This is a special time in your life. You are about to graduate. I want you to know how SPECIAL you are to me and how proud I am of you.
Love,
Mom

Dear Kim,
You finally made it! We're proud of you. May all your dreams come true.
All our love,
Mom & Dad

Dear Doug,
We knew from this picture when you got to high school the girls had better be on their guard. Sure enough, we were right. We wish you the best of everything in your future and tell you no son could make his parents prouder than you have us.
Love,
Mom and Dad

Rob,
A senior — wow! We're so happy you finally made it. Congratulations.
Dad & Mom

Dear Annie,
You finally made it — a Senior! We wish you much success in the future.
Love,
Mary & George

To our daughter,
As you're about to graduate, we want you to know how very proud we are of you. Your decisions have been wise ones, and you deserve the best life has to offer.
We love you very much,
Mom and Dad

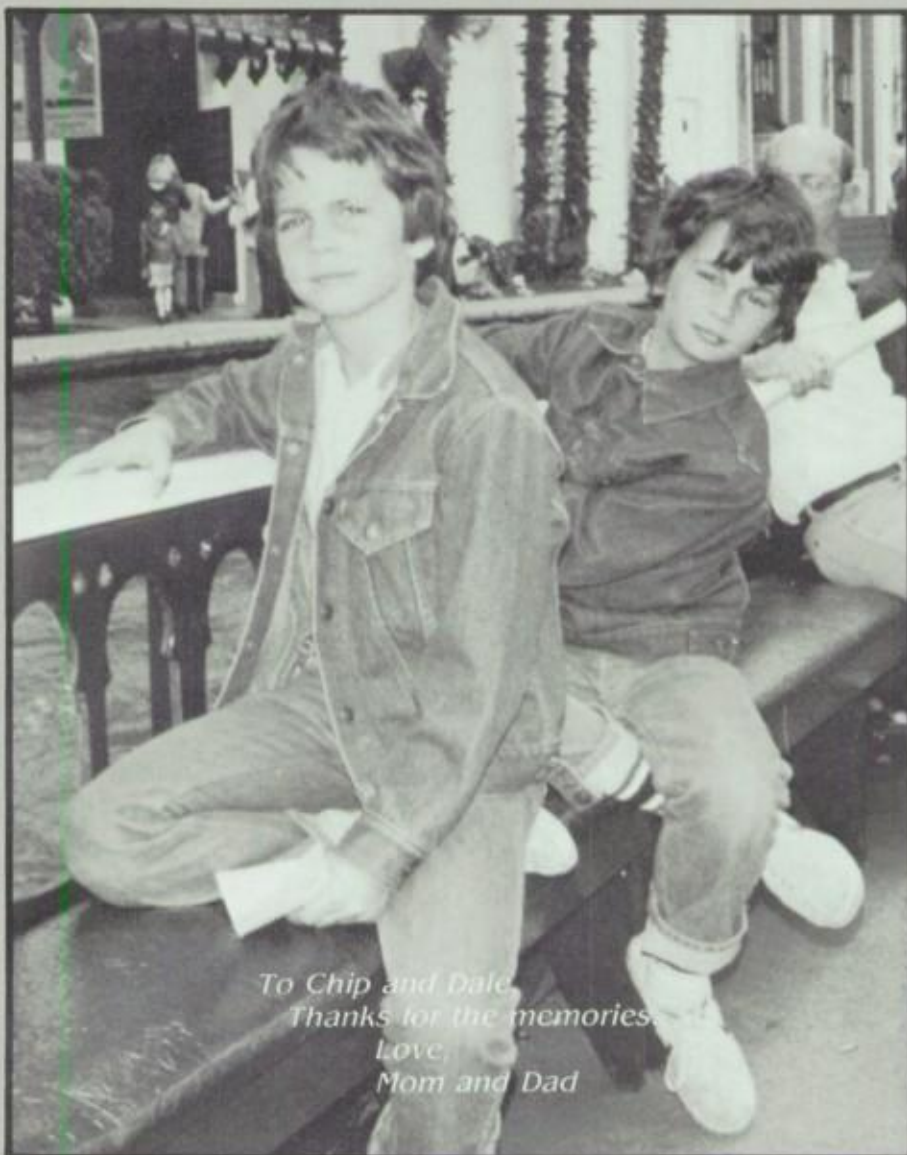

Congratulations, Sam, on catching the big one. We are proud of your achievements.
Love,
Mom and Dad

Remember how hard it was at first? But thank goodness things do get better. We are all so very proud of you. Congratulations on a job well done.
We love you very much,
Mom, Dad, and Tom

Anessa,
What a change has come over you! We are so proud of you. We hope all your dreams come true.
With all our love,
Mom and Dad

To Chip and Dale,
Thanks for the memories.
Love,
Mom and Dad

Hi, Squirt (alias Candi),
It's been a "trip," and we've loved every mile of it. For seventeen beauty-filled years of your presence in our lives and hearts we thank God. Reach for the stars! Go for it! God bless!
You are loved —
Mom, Dad, Mike, & Billy

Sherrie,
Time gave way to frilly dresses and pigtails. Now you are ready to start making dreams come true. A senior! Wow! You made-it! We are very proud of you and all your accomplishments, and we love you alot. Keep on looking up. God bless you always.
Love,
Dad, Mom, & Alisha

Thoughts of Seniors :

Remembering the good with the bad is a part of Oakland to be included in our scrapbook from the State championship to the death of gay Nitching. These times will be remembered from now.

Remember all the good but not the bad about one of the greatest tragedies that happened to our class. We love you Jeff. Please get better.

The
OHS
Alma Mater

O Oakland, the home of the Patriots,
Her colors—the red, the white, the blue,
The place where our minds meet with Knowledge,
May our lives ever be a crown to you,
Let each classroom present to us a challenge,
Molding us for the years that lie before,
O Oakland, our fairest Alma Mater,
We pledge our love to Thee evermore.

The time comes when one must venture alone into the world to expand his knowledge. Oakland, the foundation of our wisdom, will hold our memories and our hearts forever.

"Nothing Gold Can Stay."

Oakland is: Awesome, Exciting, Educational,
What we have made it, A winning football team, Writing a term paper for Mrs. Mackey, Friendships, A crowded parking lot, too many freshmen, One to remember, Better than RIVERDALE!

In the minds of a handful of the Oakland Patriot Players, alias
"The Lunch Bunch,"
special memories will linger on forever about secluded times spent in their private realm of the theatre at OHS! ☺
Good-Bye!

The great memories
I had with my friends
will never be forgotten.
No matter where I am,
no matter what I'll be in the future, the memories I had as a senior will be always cherished.

Oakland is the home of my knowledge,
the place my mind returns to for renewment. With fondest memories of "Flowery" Mathias.

It's hard to believe that I'm finally a senior. My high school days have truly been the best days. I will always remember the great friendships and good times I have had.
It's scary to think that
I soon will have to leave all of this behind, but I will always hold the good times dear to my heart.

Being with friends during our supposed "study" sessions and "group" meetings for individual information at libraries. The joy of the friendship and companionship at those times will be remembered during future "study" sessions.

Being a senior means that I no longer have to look up to another class. I can stand in the middle of the cheering section and feel that I belong. It's great to be an Oakland Patriot.

The things that I will remember most about Oakland are the strange times, the strange friends, the strange music, the strange nick names, and the strange teachers. It was fun.

The thing I will miss most about Oakland is the time spent with friends. Those all-important talks, dances, and Friday-night cruises will always be remembered. The closeness found here will never be found anywhere else.

The end of something is always hard to accept, especially something one holds so very dear to one's heart as the high school years. The individuals of Oakland, that's what I will remember. The diverse mass that comes together to form a whole.

My fondest memories of high school are of times spent with my friends. Sharing secrets, cheering at ball games, and even crying over the loss of people we love are events that time will fade, but never dissolve. Cherish the closeness you share with friends now!

To all underclassmen: Measure every minute of your high school years, including both the good and the bad. The times you spend laughing, having fun, and even crying with your friends and loved ones are some of the best times you will experience in your life.

I only wish that it were not the way of life to leave behind or grow out of those things we learn to cherish. I'll always cherish my memories from my years at Oakland and the great love shown by all for JEFF DOOSON + his family. These memories make me proud to be a PATRIOT!
WE ♥ YOU JEFF

As I leave Oakland High School, I will remember Oakland as the place of great times and the foundation of some everlasting friendships that have been created here.

OAKLAND; FILLED WITH CLASS!

WE RE- DEFINED THE WORD!

The 1986-87 school year was one of change. Graduation was moved back a week, new scholastic standards were met by both teachers and students, and the school's only principal since its opening retired. Though the year was one of great change, Patriot class has proven itself again.

Oakland has always carried with it a strong sense of pride, class, and excellence. From these halls have emerged astronauts, professional athletes, politicians, and highly respected professionals. With a record like this who can dispute: when you have CLASS, it will shine.

"The more desperate I become, the more it refuses to work!" says Tanya. Due to persistent hard work, the Dry Dock becomes an amazing reality.

Andy Flipse is honored with the first dance from JROTC Queen Carla Windrow.

Kristy Graves enthusiastically imitates the Smyrna Bulldog mascot.

Carefully checking the proofs is one of the many jobs of the yearbook's editors, Scott Adams and Cathy Miller.
After generously allowing his house to be used for the Superlative pictures, Mr. Ed Delbridge proudly displays his collection of antique cars.

We Checked The Book:

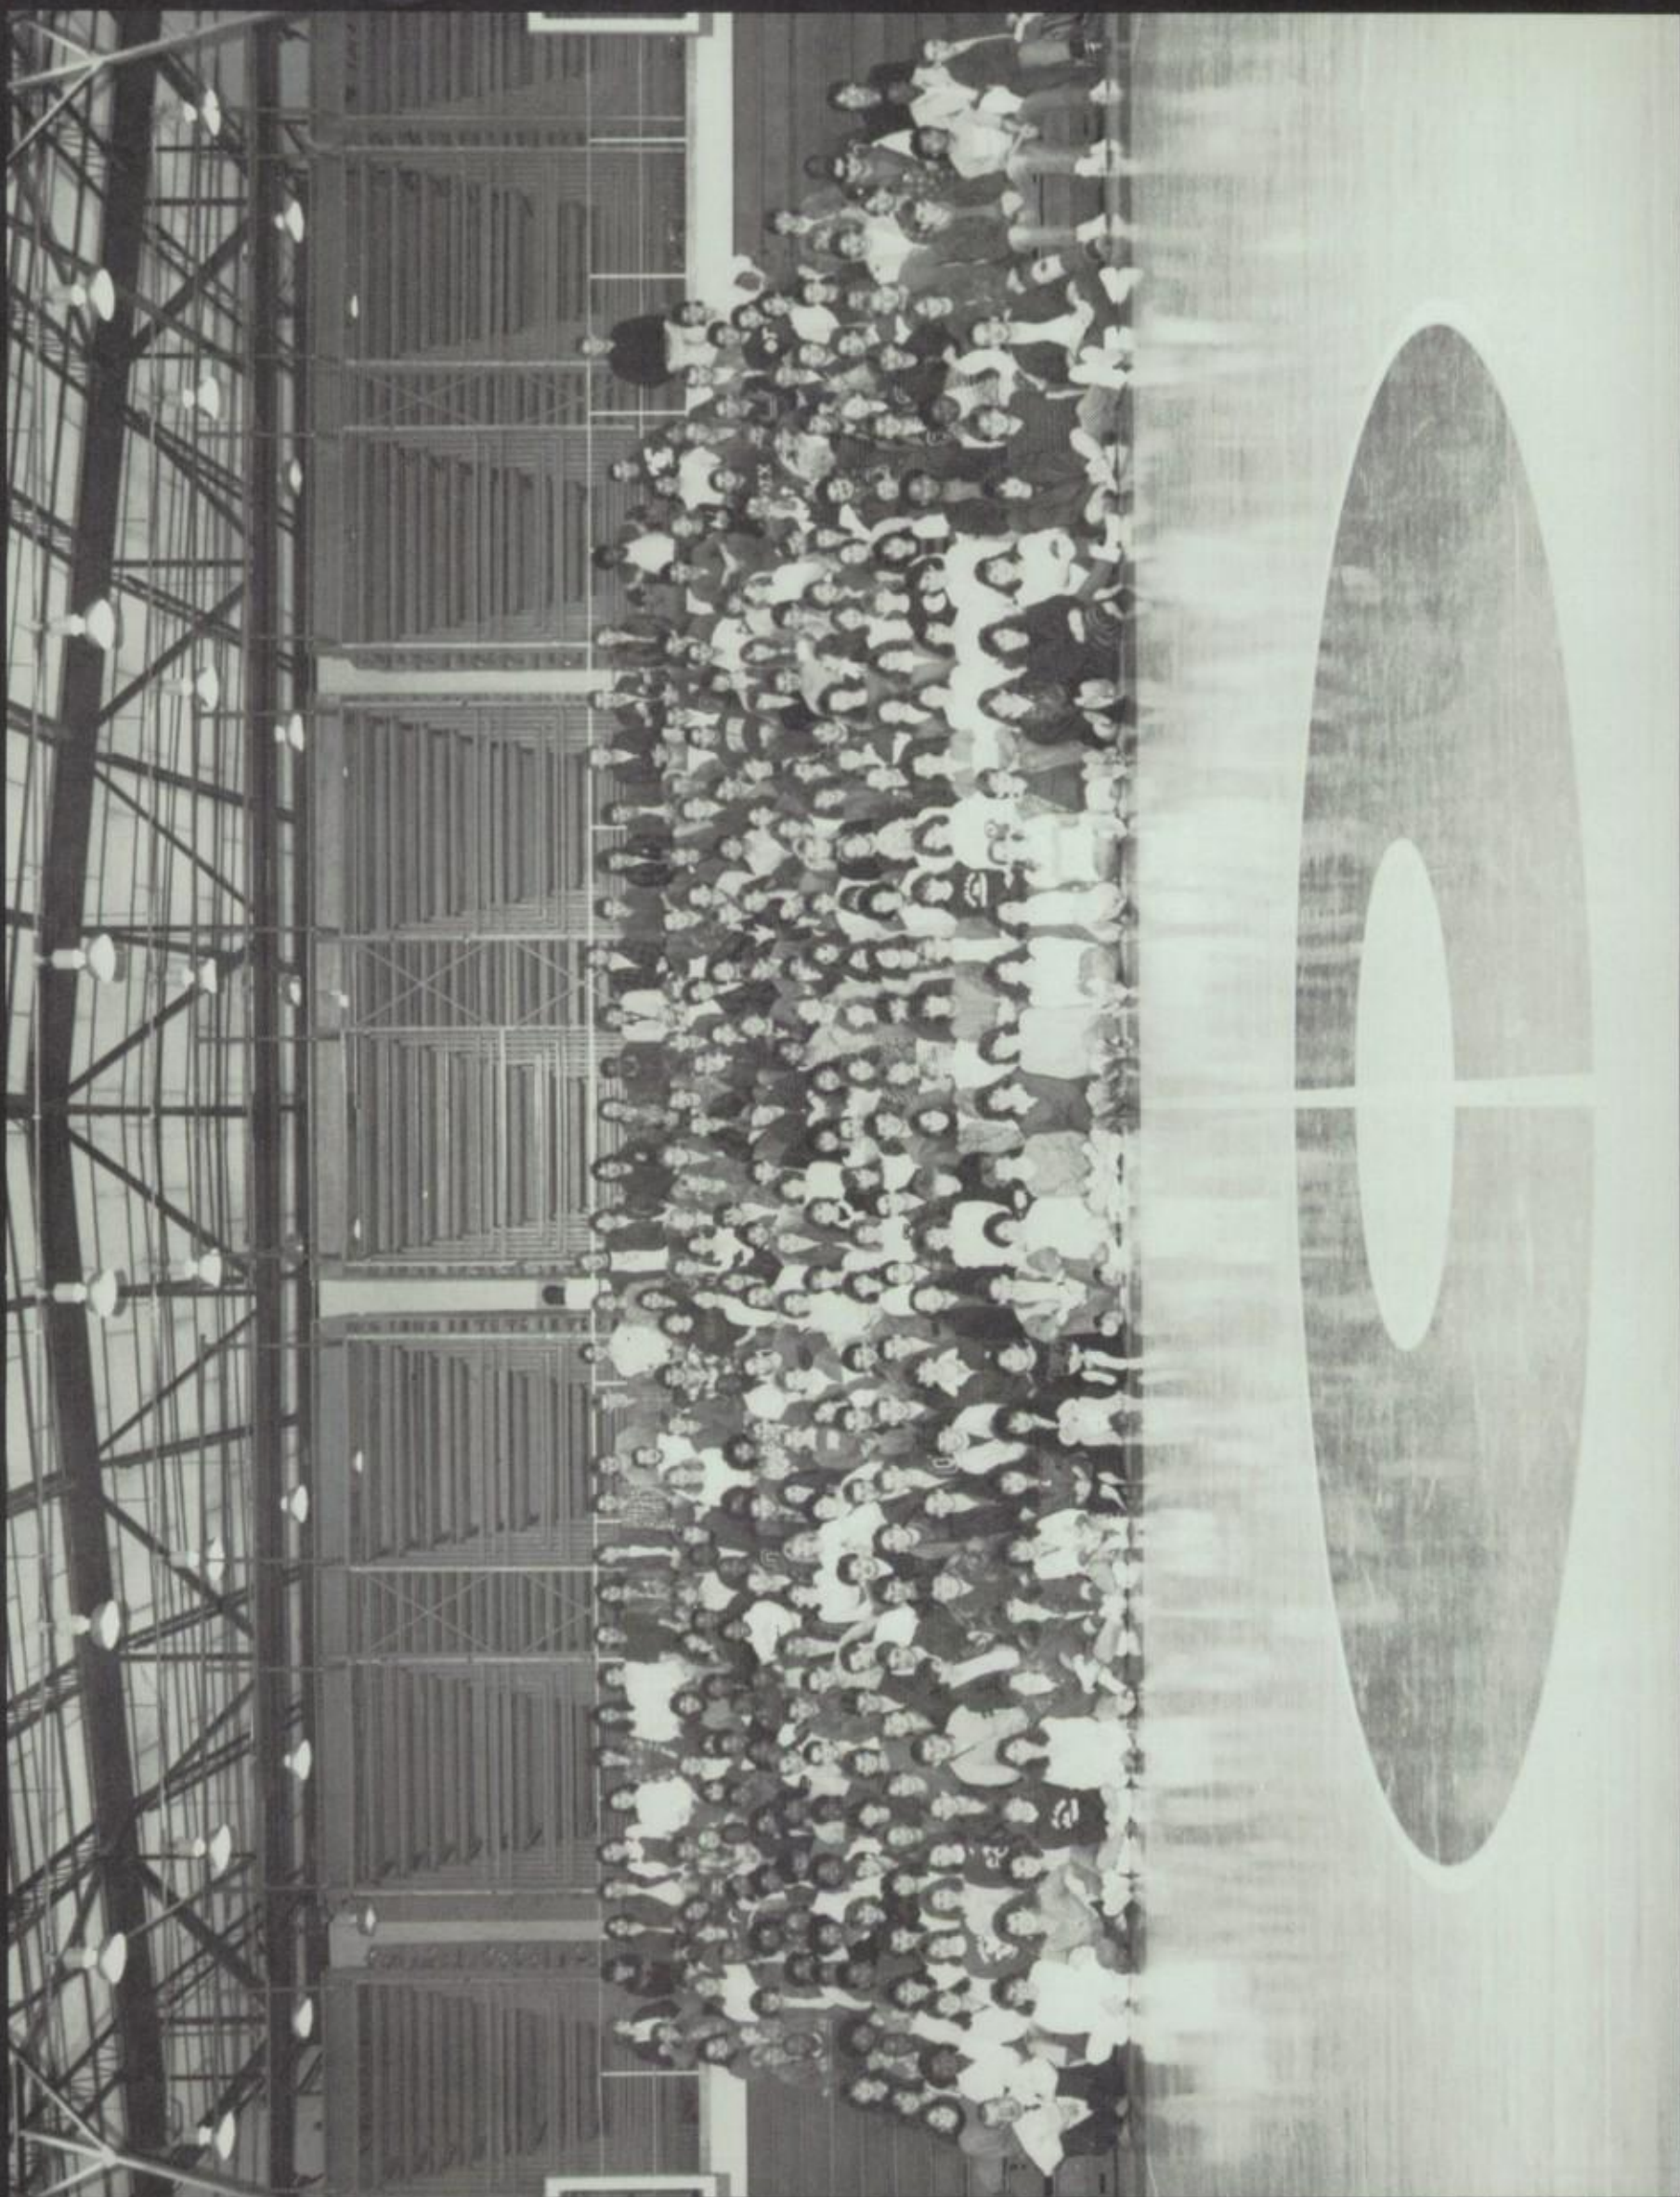

An Editor's Job Is Never Done

Many things must come together to produce a quality yearbook like the Spirit. A co-operation between teachers, administration, and the yearbook staff is necessary. Hundreds of pictures and pages of copy must blend to achieve a specific goal. Our goal this year was to continue what has come to be expected — QUALITY. We feel quality is evident in this year's classic. Those who work on a school publication have the opportunity to see Oakland High School from an inside point of view. We've seen that OHS is a very active place.

Before the last pages are sent to Josten's, we wish to thank many people. Among these are Mrs. Nancy Carr, Miss Billie Jean Chrisman, Mr. Ed Delbridge, Mrs. Nancy Jackson, Mr. Johnny Lovier, Mrs. Lourene Mackey, Mrs. Bonnie Meyer, Mr. Sam Moore, Mrs. Toni Northern, Mr. John Swafford, Mr. Paul Vaughn, Mrs. Janie Wheaton, and every business that supported us by purchasing an advertisement. A special thank you to the Student Council and Mr. George Minter for the use of their computer system.

We the staff invite the student body to take pride in this year's endeavor.

I LOVE YOU!!!

Maggie,

Hey chic! What's rockin in Long Beach?
Not much here in the 'boro. I miss you an awful lot! I keep looking through my yearbook, and I remember all of ~~of~~ our great times together! (Did you know that I wouldn't even allow anyone to use your gym locker? Not even Jenny!) Mags, you kept my life together. When you left, everything fell apart. I've done and gone places that you would be ashamed of me for. It has taken me this long to straighten everything out, and I'm still not finished! (but I'm working on it!!)

Ya know, we only knew each other for a few months, but it seems like a life time. I love you with all my heart!!! (I hope we can always be friends; ^{sorry} no matter where we are: the Philippines or the United States.) I'm sorry about how I was acting when you left. I guess, it was just my way of handling things under extreme stress. It was just that everyone I've really cared about, I've lost in one way or another. I know we've been all through this before, but I just wanted to tell you again.

I LOVE YOU!!!

You know I could never tell you that to your face. I'm just not the type. So I thought I would take up all this space in your annual. Makes ~~oops!~~ sense, huh? Not really, but have I ever made sense?

Magp, I guess what I'm really trying to say is "Please, don't ever forget me!!" Remember all the times at my house and at your aunt's. Remember all the times Theresa put up with us. Remember the surprise party. "Do you still want to go to the dance?" Oh, and don't forget BON JOVI! You can't forget them. They were an interesting experience!! Remember all those hilarious times you tried to teach me to dance!! Now I know you can't forget something like that! That was funny.

Well, I guess I've taken up enough space. You know if you ever need anything, I'll always be here. Write me soon.

Have a terrific Summer!!!

Love ya always, lots, and forever,

ShAnn

"RED MUFFIN!"

Class of '90!

P.S. You are still going to be in my wedding!!

Maggie -

I really miss you! Has C.A. been fun? I hope the PHILIPPINES will be fun!
We're circulating your Annual around school,
I hope you don't mind! Have fun at prom,
OK? Someday, I'll visit you in P.I., OK
I'll write ya ahead of time, OK! Don't ever forget your Murfreesboro hillbilly pals! Especially me! (But is it possible for me to be forgotten! Say hi to So², if y'all still are "communicating"!

Love,

Amy

Maggie -

Remember me? You are so lucky!

☺ California! English has never been the same. What a bore. You went just in time to miss Antigone & A Tale of Two Cities. Come back & visit or have a slumber party & invite us! I miss you!

Oakland #1

Lylas,

Shawn

maggie

Hey Squirt! How's CA?
It's O.K. here. Could be better.
So I heard you're going to the Philippines. Have fun.
Write O.K. miss you lots

Love, (g)
Jenny

Maggie,

I miss you so much. I wish you could have stayed here, but I hope you're having fun. I hope you had a good year. I know I did. Stay sweet. I'll always remember you.

Lyla,

Julie

(P.S. Spanish wasn't the same when you left.)

Maggie,

Things just haven't been the same here since you left.
It's too quiet. (HA!) I really miss seeing your smiling face around here. I hope to see you again soon.

Love ya,
Daryn DeSantis

Dear Maggie,

I'm real sorry about having to say goodbye to you earlier than we both expected, but I am sure you've managed to have a major blast while you've been a freshman!
I miss you a lot and the things we'd do together. You are a sweet and beautiful girl with an outgoing personality. I hope that you will succeed in all you do and in what you wish to become. You're the sister I never had. Thanks!
I could write so much more but I think you know how special you are to me.

Best of luck, and we'll continue to keep in touch while you're in "Flip" and I'm in Florida.

SENIORS

I love you lots,

Theresa Escueta

P.S. When are you gonna sign my annual? OO

Hi!
you probably don't remember
me but hope you are having a good time away from M'boro!
See you later,
Jenny

Maggie,
How is California?
I hope you're having fun. You probably don't remember me also but I wish you the best of luck.
Cheryl
Reed

Maggie,
Hey, What's up? I sure hope you are having a great time but you sure are missed. English is still very boring. We now are in literature and Levi just keeps on giving us more and more to read.
Friends,
Vicki Stark

Maggie
I miss you! I wish you would write me! Hope you're having fun!
Love ya lots,
Susan Bennett

I bet you're getting a kick out of some of the people who sign this annual.
I hope you remember me. I miss you & hope you are having fun. If you ever want to talk to me just write.
